"Liquor Sale at Sea Wholly Illegal"—Former Cabinet Man

BY GEORGE F. MILTON, JR.

(By Consolidated Press Leased Wire).

Chattanooga, Tenn., June 17—The sale of liquor on any American vessel is a violation of the prohibition act, in the view of W. L. Frierson of this city, who, as acting attorney general of the United States during the Wilson administration, rendered the official opinion that the dry laws applied to vessels on the high seas.

Not only is this so, Mr. Frierson said today, but all of the opinions of the courts up to and including the Supreme court, uphold this view.

RIGHT INVIOLABLE.

"The right of the United States Government to punish offenses committed on the high seas always has been recognized," declared Mr. Frierson. "Any act of congress which has a general application is as much in force on a vessel flying the American flag as it would be on American soil.

"Congress has exactly the same power to legislate and make particular acts crimes when done on American vessels on the high seas that it has to make such acts crimes in the District of Columbia where it has plenary powers of legislation."

Labor Board in Open War Following New Cut

Charges of Agitation Come On Heels of Third Slice of Rail Employes—1,200,000 Men Now Effected.

[By the Associated Press]

Chicago, June 17.—Majority members of the United States railroad board, who yesterday ordered another slash from wages of the nation's railway workers, today retailed to criticism of minority members of the board with the charge that the dissenting members presented 'incendiary arguments in a strained and exaggerated effort to inflame the employes to strike against the decisions of the board"

"SEEDS OF ANARCHY."

The minority, constituting two of these labor members, were accused of "sowing some of the tiny seeds that have germinated and blossomed into industrial anarchy in Russia."

325,000 MORE HIT.

Yesterday's decision, which lopped nearly $27,000,000 from the wages of 325,000 railroad clerks, signalmen and stationary firemen, brought total reduction effective July 1 under the boards orders, up to $135,000,000 Approximately 1,200,000 railway employes affected by the orders.

Accompanying yesterday's order carrying reductions ranging from 2 to 6 cents an hour was a long supporting opinion from the members representing the railroads and the public and the dissenting opinion by the labor members condemning the order.

REFUSE CONTROVERSY.

In their prompt rejoinder today the majority members said: "It is not incumbent upon the six members of the board concurring in this decisions to follow the minority into a partisan controversy which partakes more of the characteristics of impassioned advocacy than of calm adjudication.

"We prefer to believe that these improprieties crept into the part of the document which was drafted by the employes in the headquarters of the railway department of the American Federation of Labor, and that they were overlooked by the dissenting members.

WOULD LOSE MILLION.

Recognition of budgets proposed by the minority would result in the loss of hundreds of millions of dollars to the roads each year, the majority members continued.

"This shortage would have had to be paid by some form of taxation presumably freight rates, which would have added to the burdens of every individual in the country, rich and poor," they said.

"IGNORE COMMON SENSE."

"It is well to remember," the statement continued, "that the time will never come in this or any other country when the ordinary rules of common sense and business can be absolutely ignored in the conduct of industry."

Rail and Mine Union Men Will Meet Jointly

MAIL STRIKE BALLOTS.

Strike ballots to stationary firemen and oilers and instructions to general committees of signal men to decide whether to take a strike vote will be in the mails by night, following the decision of railroad labor board last night, cutting wage of members of these unions

PASS TAKING VOTE.

Clerks and station employes will not take a general strike ballot, E. H. Fitzgerald, grand president of the brotherhood announced. He said that the general committee on each railroad system or road would determine whether or not a strike ballot would be issued and added that where such votes were taken the men would be bound by the result.

There will be no walkout on a number of roads which have made agreements with the men which bound them to accept any wage slashes made by the labor board.

Certain Crops Help to Fight the Chinch Bug

Farm Adviser Discusses the Pest Which Menaces Macon's Principal Crop.

BY E. H. WALWORTH,
Macon County Farm Adviser.

While the chinch-bug subject seems old, yet new situations are constantly arising in the habits of this destructive insect due to the variations of weather conditions.

Normally the first brood of chinch-bugs develop in wheat or oats and migrate to the corn fields about harvest time. It happens that the season of 1922 has been abnormal in many respects. A very late opening of spring work was made necessary by continued rains; the bugs were somewhat late in flying from winter quarters. By the time they made their flight about the first week in May much of the wheat had developed a heavy rank growth, undesirable as a stopping place for these insects, the oats had scarcely started growth and so presumably, according to Professor Flint, State Entomologist many of the old bugs made their stopping place in the young grassy fields not yet plowed for corn. There they stayed. Plowing and working the fields did not destroy them and so as soon as the corn was up they were found in considerable numbers around the hills.

HATCHED IN CORN.

The young bugs hatched in the corn and are on the roots and stalks of young corn plants. Instead of the long continued spring rains disposing of the adult population, it has actually worked the other way and has made the chinch-bug problem more acute.

The common question among men who have this condition is, "Will it pay to run a barrier? I have more bugs in the corn than in the wheat." Generally speaking, in answer to this question, where bugs are found in any numbers in wheat it will be advisable to run barriers. In all short and thin wheat, and in some of the taller wheat where the bugs are found in considerable numbers, running of barriers should be practiced.

BARRIERS TRAP BUGS

The barriers are not only for the purpose of stopping the migrations of the invaders but also to trap a large proportion of them in post holes and destroy them, thus preventing their flight into the corn fields to develop the second brood. It is this second brood that generally does the greatest amount of total damage to corn, because with the ability to fly they spread over a very large territory.

Professor Flint suggests that the only thing that can be done to hinder the work of those already on the corn plants is frequent cultivation to keep them stirred up as much as possible.

CHANGE CROP.

If it appears that they are going to get the best of the corn, it would be advisable to put in another crop that the chinch-bugs do not eat before it is too late to get good results from such a crop.

Early soybeans, such as Ito San can still be planted, either drilled solid or in rows. Soybean seed is available and the Farm Bureau will help secure it if it can not be obtained locally, but this must be attended to right now.

SUNFLOWERS LAST RESORT.

Sunflowers can be grown in rows for seed as a last resort, and the seed should be sown during June. Buckwheat also can be sown up to about the middle of July. Chinch-bugs do not feed on any of these crops.

NEVER ADMIT DEFEAT.

One of the characteristics of American people is never to admit defeat. If the original plans do not carry, they adopt a substitute plan and go forward and make the best of it.

It probably would not be advisable to disc up the corn and destroy it if soybeans or sunflowers are to be sown. The seed bed is already in good condition after corn cultivation, and these crops can be put in without much damage to the corn. Some of the corn plants may go ahead and produce a fair yield, especially if the weather man will favor us with sufficient showers and the soybeans are not likely to interfere much with the growth of the corn.

Extension Circular Number 30 entitled, "Fight the Chinch-Bugs with Crops," can be secured from the University and a limited number will be available from the Farm Bureau.

The Farm Bureau is prepared to be of assistance to anyone in locating seed and methods of handling of these crops and in any other ways possible to meet the new situations that are constantly arising.

Lice and Mites and How to Fight Them

Beginning about the first of June a flock of hens usually will lay fewer eggs each week until production finally ceases in October or November, says F. W. Garrett, farm adviser of Douglas county, in his latest bulletin to his farmers. From the standpoint of profitable egg production the poultryman's problem is one of how to delay as long as possible this inevitable drop in egg yield. One important factor in this connection is the control of lice and mites. As hot weather approaches these little parasites multiply very rapidly and if nothing is done to get rid of them will prevent any flock from making a profitable showing.

There are many kinds of lice to be found on hens but fortunately their habits are so nearly alike that, in practise, one method of treatment can be used to control them all. Ordinary lice remain on the hen all the time and any substance used to kill them must be applied to the hen. Spraying the chicken house will not kill lice.

SIMPLE REMEDY

One of the simplest and quickest methods of treating hens for lice is to use a mixture of mercurial ointment and vaseline. Have the druggist mix these in equal parts by weight. Treat the entire flock at one time. Apply to each hen a small quantity of the ointment—perhaps the size of a kernel of corn—rubbing it on the skin at a point about one inch below the vent. Care should be taken not to leave much of the ointment clinging to the feathers as it is poisonous if taken internally.

The effect of the mercury will remain long enough to destroy any lice which hatch from eggs that may be present at the time the treatment is given. Three or four applications a year should keep hens reasonably free from lice.

WILL PREVENT HATCHING

This ointment should not be used on setting hens as the mercury will prevent eggs from hatching. Lice powder is the only safe thing to use on setting hens.

"PINCH METHOD"

Perhaps the cheapest and most satisfactory lice powder is sodium flouride. This may be applied by the ordinary "pinch method," in which a hen is held by the feet head downward and the powder worked in among the feathers on all parts of the body.

Another satisfactory method for warm weather is to dissolve sodium flouride in water at the rate of one ounce to a gallon. Dip each hen in the solution for a half minute after which press surplus water out of the feathers and release the hen. It is important that a bright warm day be chosen for this treatment.

THE PARASITE

In controlling mites on the other hand, we have to deal with what is known as an intermittent parasite. These pests remain in cracks and crevices around the roosts and dropping boards during the day and come out in force only at night. They crawl up on the hens and suck blood until they are fully gorged. They then return to the underside of the roosts and other inconspicuous places to remain through the day. If unchecked they may easily increase to such large numbers as to kill setting hens. It is evident that a hen cannot be expected to lay many eggs under such difficulties.

FIGHT THEM IN THE DAY.

The time to fight mites is during the day while they are in clusters under the roosts and dropping boards. Some strong contact spray must be used, such as creosote, crude carbolic acid, concentrated lime sulphur, or any of a number of patent coal tar disinfectants or stock dips. Spray or paint thoroughly the roosts and roost supports. Repeat as often as mites are found.

WHEAT IN DEWITT BEATEN BY STORM

Chinch Bug Demonstration Held Wednesday.

Clinton, June 17—The storm of Monday night battered down several fields of wheat in the northern part of Dewitt county, the damage being confined to a space some two miles wide. In the southern part of the county, little damage is reported.

The Dewitt County farm bureau conducted a chinch bug demonstration on the farm of W. O. Robinson of near Dewitt Wednesday afternoon. State Entomologist W. O. Flint and Farm Adviser E. T. Robbins were present. Several methods that have proved effective in controlling the insect were discussed.

CHINCH BUGS TAKE CORN NEAR RADFORD

Radford, June 17.—The chinch bugs in this vicinity are getting to be very destructive. They are in the corn and have cleaned up forty acres for Mr. Sims.

The farmers are very busy with corn plowing and clover. Wheat will soon be ready to cut. Oats are not doing well at all.

MOSQUITO-PROOF

Pure-bred sacred bull of India on ranch at Palacios, Texas. Cattle men are planning to rear such animals in the swamps of Texas, Florida, Louisiana and Mississippi because mosquitoes leave 'em alone.

SHELBY SHIPPING ASS'NS ARE ACTIVE

Much Poultry, Cream and Eggs Handled.

Shelby County Farm News. The egg and poultry associations at Oconee, Tower Hill and Westervelt are doing a paying business. Each of these associations is also handling a good volume of cream. The Oconee association received 112 gallons of cream one day last week.

The association at Shelbyville was not getting a sufficient volume of business to meet expenses and has temporarily stopped shipping eggs as an association. However, a number of the members will continue to ship their eggs individually and in local circles.

PRICES RISE.

When the shipping association at Shelbyville first began shipping eggs the local price was 15c per dozen. The members who shipped their eggs netted 17c per dozen. Then the local buyers gradually raised their prices to 21c a dozen. Since the shipping association quit, the price of eggs has gone down to 17c, and judging from the market conditions the toboggan has not yet come.

This local increase was not due to an increase in price at the large markets—in fact the Chicago and New York markets lowered somewhat during that time. But it was undoubtedly an effort of the large buyers to discredit and put out of business the co-operative marketing associations. All farmers who sold eggs reaped the benefit of the shipping associations through the better prices paid on account of the competition. However, paying more than the market justified, was not a paying proposition to the large cash buyers.

MORE PROFITABLE.

Shipping poultry by express is considered more profitable than selling locally. One of our farmers shipped a coop of roosters a few days ago. A local buyer remarked to him at the express office that he felt sorry for him because he would not realize to pay transportation. However, it was a different story when the returns came, for they netted him exactly double the local home price.

CONTROL STRIPED CUCUMBER BEETLE

The striped cucumber beetle may be controlled either by poisoning or by being driven away by offensive odors. If poison is used it should be thoroughly applied, being careful to cover the stalk of the plant and the underside of the leaves.

Poison may be applied in either of the following ways:

(1) Spray with arsenate of lead 1 lb to 25 gallons of water, or

(2) Mix one part of calcium arsenate with 20 parts of gypsum and apply as dust preferably when the dew is on, or

(3) Mix 1 part powdered arsenate of lead with 10 to 15 parts of flour.

REPELLENTS.

Repellents — Many home control methods are used with very good results. Kerosene, oil of lemon, turpentine or any compound having an offensive odor to bugs may be sprinkled into a portion of lime or ashes and dusted on the plants about the hills. The odors, as long as they last, will help keep the bugs away.

SNELL HERD BRINGS MORE THAN $10,000

Clinton, June 17—One hundred fifty-two head of Hereford cattle were sold by Richard Snell, Clinton banker, to Rundle & Fuller Wednesday, the stock being sold for 8½ cents per pound and shipped to the Chicago market.

The younger cattle brought around $80 each and the older stock averaged $100, the total amount being more than $10,000.

SHELBY FARMERS PLAN TRIP TO U. OF I.

Pilgrimage to Be Made on June 20.

The Farm Bureau has made arrangements with the University of Illinois College of Agriculture for Shelby county to make an auto tour to the College and Experiment station on Tuesday, June 20th. Not only Farm Bureau members are urged to attend this tour, but all other residents of Shelby county are invited to join in.

MEETING PLACES.

All residents of the south half of Shelby county should plan to meet in Windsor in time to leave at 6:30 a. m.

Those living in the north half of the county should meet at the intersection of the Moweaqua-Bethany road and the county line at the same time. One of the Advisers will be present at each gathering point. Members of the Boys' and Girls' clubs are especially invited to attend with their parents. Bring the ladies along; take your dinner and arrange for a regular picnic and a good time. Tables will be ready in a fine shady spot on the University grounds. Bleachers will be set up on the Morrow Plots and everything arranged for having a good time.

'JUNE CHICKS SLEEP LIVES AWAY' ERROR

In some localities "May chicks sleep lives away," in others it is the June chick that is given the credit of too much sleepiness. But, as a fact, it is the caretaker's drowsiness that is at fault in either case. As June is usually the first really warm month, the chicks require a cool, shady place, light feed and not to much of it at the start. Mites and lice are prevalent and too often they raise havoc before the trouble is located.

Too often the brooder temperature is not watched closely enough and suffocating heat ruins the chicks. The brooder room and hover needs spraying with a good disinfectant to destroy lice and mites. The chicks heads should be examined for lice. Care must be taken that the chicks do not lie in the path of hot sun rays.

PIATT SOY BEAN PLANT ASSURED

Meeting Called to Organize Company.

Monticello, June 17—They soy bean plant, which has been discussed and planned for Piatt county, is a sure go. The commissioners met Saturday of last week at Monticello and arranged to call the stock-holders or subscribers together on Saturday, June 24, to organize the company and elect a board of directors. It has been a county affair from start to finish.

The commissioners are of the opinion that with the interest shown by Piatt county farmers in backing up the plant, and a strong board of directors handling the company with a good business manager, it has great possibilities.

WINTER WHEAT IS NEAR HARVEST

Maroa, July 17.—Winter wheat in this community will be ready to harvest within ten days. There are reports of rust in many fields, and some farmers report injury from the bugs. The pests generally are going from the wheat fields to the oats and corn and much damage has been done in some sections.

ONE FIELD PLOWED UP.

On one of the R. B. Wikoff's farms southwest of town the bugs damaged about ten acres of corn to such an extent that Mr. Wikoff decided to plow it up and plant soy beans.

There is considerable old corn in farmers cribs, but even if the price was tempting, there would be no time to move it for several weeks as the work on the farm is piling up—corn plowing, making clover hay and wheat harvest in sight.

WISE OR FOOLISH?

"A very clear notion of how fertility of the land is being depleted can be obtained by comparing a crop growing in a cleared hedge or fence row with that growing in the field," remarks Farm Adviser J. W. Watson in his latest farm bulletin. "We can bamboozle ourselves for a time that this good black land will last forever and that continued cropping will never wear out the soil, but a couple of generations from now, farmers will seriously question the intelligence of the generation living today that is robbing the soil."

WHEAT RUST, WORMS AND BUGS IN DEWITT

Clinton, June 17—Dewitt county farmers are becoming apprehensive over the prospect of wheat rust which has shown up in this vicinity and has been reported in Piatt and McLean counties to such an extent that one walking through a field will have his shoes covered with red dust.

Early spring rains are charged with contributing to the large number of insects and worms, which are exceptionally numerous in the bottom and timber lands. In the timber near Salt Creek, many trees have lost all of their foliage and there are millions of webs hanging from bushes and brush.

HEROIC METHODS TO SAVE CHERRIES

Neoga News: H. A. Aldrich has a cherry tree near his home on which he has expended $100 to save the fruit this season. He paid $5 for the tree and set it out eight years ago. It is supposed to bear white cherries but he has never yet had any crop from it. This year he determined to save the fruit from the weather and the birds if possible so that he could see for himself what kind of fruit it bore.

He has made a gas pipe frame around the tree and covered it with wire to keep the birds away. During cold spells this spring he put a cloth cover over the entire frame.

SICK HEADACHE AND NEURALGIA

Two forms of nervousness, sick headache and neuralgia, have the same cause, undernourished nerves. They may occur together as they did in the case of Mrs. Chris. Hansen, of No. 39 Sullivan street, Manchester, N. H.

"My system was run down," says Mrs. Hansen, "and I was tired all day long. I had sick headaches and dizzy spells. The pain would be across my temples and in my eyes. My appetite was poor and nothing tasted good. I had neuralgia in the right side of my face. My color was sallow, my stomach upset and I did not rest well at night.

"I owe my recovery to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. After the second box I could see that they were helping me. My food tasted better and my appetite increased. I gained in strength also. I continued the treatment and the headaches are all gone now as well as the neuralgia pains. I feel good and I can recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

Your own druggist sells Dr. William's Pink Pills. Price 60 cents.

HOME WEDDING NEAR TUSCOLA

Alma Clapper Bride of Chicago Man.

Tuscola, June 17.—Miss Alma B. Clapper of near Tuscola and Maynard Todd Bartholomew of Chicago, were married on Wednesday evening at five o'clock, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Clapper, just north of Tuscola. The ceremony was conducted by Rev. B. F. Shipp of the Tuscola Methodist church, in the presence of the members of the immediate families of the young couple.

In addition to these, the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Scroggin, who have been school mates of Mrs. Bartholomew, were present. The Clapper family just moved to this community last spring from near Bondville, and in the short time that she has been here, the bride has made many friends. The bridegroom graduated from the University of Illinois, having received his degree, on the day of the wedding. He has taken a course in business administration in the school of Commerce and Business Administration.

Immediately following the wedding, the young couple left for a wedding trip by automobile, but did not make their destination known. They expect to make their home in Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Joseph are the parents of a daughter, born in the Jarman hospital Friday morning. The young lady has been named Harriet Ann.

FAREWELL SOCIAL.

The people of the Lutheran church of this city held a farewell social for Rev. Mr. Nolting, their pastor and his wife, at the home of Mrs. Mary Rahn Thursday evening. About 175 people were present and the evening was spent in a social way and with games. Refreshments consisting of sandwiches, coffee, ice cream and cake were served. Rev. Mr. Nolting expects to leave here about June 25, to take charge of a church in New York. A successor has not yet been found.

YOUTH FIXES RADIO.

William Read, the young son of Frank W. Read, local agent for the C. I. & W. railroad for some time has been interested and experimenting with radio work. On Friday while he was about the C. I. & W. station he strung a strand of insulated wire such as is used for indoor work, out the window of the office and fastened the end to a pole some distance away. He then went inside the office and attached to the wire a listening-in set, and immediately picked up the market reports that were being broadcast from the grain office of J. L. Bush in the Star store building.

Guy R. Jones and J. L. Bush have returned from a fishing trip at Minocqua, Wis. F. E. Parker and Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Van Voorhis, who drove through to that point, were expected to arrive here Friday evening. Messrs. Jones and Bush reported good fishing the first few days they were there, but not so good later.

WANT SLIDE FOR OPPORTUNITY HOME

Need $90 More to Buy Equipment.

"When are we gonna' get our slide?" that is the question that the little chaps out at the Boys' Opportunity Home are asking.

"The people of this city should know how much these kiddies want a slide," said Frank Torrence. "Of all the institutions around the city the Opportunity Home has the least equipment for the children to amuse themselves. One slide can do more to take care of these children than a dozen policemen. I have done all I can to secure this slide for them and there are other persons in Decatur who will do the same if they can be made to realize how much good this slide would do these little ones."

Thus far $70 has been collected for the slide fund. Contributions to this fund may be of any size from 25c upwards. Persons desiring to help the cause along should leave their money at The Review. In order to get the slide it will be necessary to collect $90 more. Do your part.

WISCONSIN CRAWLS FROM UNDER DEBRIS

Death List May Still Go Higher.

Glenwood City, Wis, June 17.—Rapid progress was being made today in clearing away evidences of the tornado that swept through sections of four counties in western Wisconsin Thursday night.

Additional reports early today did not change the total of fatalities, although there still remained a few isolated districts that had not reported previously. The death list may be swelled, however, as several of the injured are in a critical condition.

SEEK DISBARMENT OF HARRY KERKER

Springfield, Ill, June 17.—Roy Cline, state's attorney for Champaign county, appeared before the state supreme court here Friday with a motion, in behalf of the people, asking leave to file information for the disbarment of Harry L. Kerker, Champaign attorney.

JUSTICE ABORTED.

The disbarment proceedings developed from a recent murder case in which it was alleged by the state's attorney that justice was aborted by actions of Kerker.

Charges against Kerker, on which the disbarment proceedings are based, occurred during the trial of Wardell Jordan, who killed his uncle, Frank Jordan. Kerker represented the defendant. At the close of the first trial, young Jordan was convicted and sentenced to be hanged. A new trial was obtained. A number of witnesses changed their testimony, and it was charged that the changes were induced by Kerker.

CHILE-PERU HANDS TASK OVER TO U. S.

Washington, June 17.—The tangled skein of negotiations enmeshing the Chilean-Peruvian conference, finally was handed over to the American state department for unraveling today.

STONE-AGE TACTICS LAID TO HUSBAND

Clinton Woman Asks Arrest of Husband.

Clinton, June 17.—City and state warrants are out for the arrest of J. W. Frye, an Illinois Central brakeman working between Clinton and Amboy, on a charge of assault and battery.

Frye is said to have beaten up on his wife Thursday evening on North Madison street, the affair being staged in the presence of several residents, some of whom attempted to take the woman's part and were themselves struck several times. Mrs. Frye, who is confined to her bed on account of the injuries received at the hands of her stone-age husband, caused the warrant to be sworn out for his arrest and the matter was then taken in hand by State's Attorney Smith, who caused a state charge to be placed against Frye. Witnesses to the affray state that the man was intoxicated and that charge probably will be added after his arrest has been made.

He recently was arrested and fined for beating up a neighbor, and bears a reputation for aggressiveness.

LOSES VALUABLE DOGS.

Heber Morse, residing at 626 West Van Buren street, lost two fine hunting dogs last week, poison having been administered by some one evidently not a lover of dogs. A third dog which had also received a dose of poison was found with Mr. Morse's hounds, the ownership being unknown.

FIND MORE ANTS.

Carpenter contractors, making repairs to property of Mrs W. A. Moore, South Monroe street, Friday discovered a multitude of white ants, similar to those which wrought so much damage to the Sprague bungalow, under an old kitchen. The nest was in an old limb of a tree which had been lying under the building.

Charles T. Sprague, while still using chemicals as a matter of precaution, reports that the ants at his home are doing no more damage and very few are being found. An inspection of the place was made by a Champaign University man, records being made of the depredations and photographs taken of the ants' work.

FILES DIVORCE SUIT.

Suit has been filed in the circuit court by attorneys acting for Hazel Pearl Pennington, asking for divorce from Charles A. Pennington.

Choosing an Optometrist

WHEN the time comes—as it does come to most of us eventually—for the eyes to be given attention, choose your optometrist with the same care you would use in selecting a physician in case of serious illness. Consider these things in making your choice of a man to fit you with glasses:

The length of time he has been practising.

His professional standing in the community.

The completeness of his equipment for the scientific testing of the eyes.

His frankness in telling you whether or not you need glasses.

And, last but far from least—ask the opinion of those who have enlisted his service in the past.

We believe that after careful consideration of all these factors, you will find Wallace Eye Service the logical service for you.

On Wings of Wireless

—By ARTHUR B. REEVE

CHAPTER XII

I'LL TELL THE WORLD!

GARRICK spread the net far and wide to intercept the "Bacchante." Within a few minutes he had the Radio Central, the New York police wireless station, all the big private broadcasting stations, even Defoe's apparatus in the boathouse sending out periodical signals of alarm. He had turned the radio world veritably upside down in the search.

Forenoon lengthened into afternoon. Dick worked feverishly tuning up his Defoe telautomatic hydroaeroplane.

"This is one of the newest of sciences— telautomatics," he remarked as Garrick watched.

"Telautomatics?"

"Yes. You probably know it by another name. There is something weird, fascinating about the very idea. I sit here safely, upstairs, turning switches, pressing buttons, depressing levers. Ten miles away a vehicle, an auto, a ship, an aeroplane, a submarine obeys me!

"It may carry enough of the latest and most modern explosive that after-war science can invent, enough if exploded to rival the worst of earthquakes. Yet it obeys my will. It goes where I direct it. It explodes where and when I want it. And it wipes off the face of the earth anything that I want annihilated. That's telautomatics!"

Garrick regarded his friend with genuine admiration. "I won't go into my radio-combinator, my telecommutator, my audion relay and all the rest," went on Dick. "You see, I have letters on the keys of the radio combinator—forward, back, start propeller motor, stop propeller motor, rudder right, rudder left, the angles, light signals forward and aft, and all the rest. It's really delayed contact. The machinery is always ready, but it delays until the right, selective impulse is given. And I take advantage of the delay to have the message-signal repeated back to me, to check up on it."

"Vira's back!"

It was Nita Walden in her car with McKay before the laboratory. "She called me from Southold; I went over and met her train on the main line. And I've brought her here first. Guy, telephone to Glenn; I know how anxious the boy is."

"But how? What of Ruth?" queried Dick.

"Ask Vira. She has come to tell you all she knows. I made her. These youngsters are getting toned down. Maybe Ruth will listen to reason when she gets back. Oh, if I only had her!"

"I'll say that, too!" cried Dick. "Tell us, Vira."

"Well, you see, we found a duck boat in the hold, a boat for one. One of us could get off. Ruth made the choice—insisted—settled it. It had to be done in a second. She made me go—even when I fought her to stay."

Dick grasped Nita Walden's hand in emotion. It was a splendid piece of heroism of Ruth.

"Don't you see?" explained Vira, talking fast as she poured out what she knew. "The jig was up for the gang. All they wanted was to make a clean get-away, take all the jewelry and the money. They waited until the last minute to get fifty thousand for the Inner Circle and the other stuff. But it failed. Then the only thing that remained was to get away—with Ruth— the ten-million dollar heiress, as they speak of her . . .

"You know, the 'Bacchante' had been taking the stuff off rum-runners. It was sheer bluff, posing as revenue enforcers. It was stored on the 'Sea Vamp.' Every time anyone drove into the clyt, they would take a couple of cases or more to the Inner Circle or the Garage. From the Inner Circle and the Garage it was distributed. They were wealthy bootleggers to the wealthy. Bootleg aristocracy!"

Nita sighed. "Up to a point, then, perhaps Ruth didn't need saving from herself as much as I thought. She was on the trail of something big—this conspiracy . . And she almost landed her fish . . Only to get into trouble from which it's taking all the skill of Guy and Dick to save her."

Vira's eyes were restlessly glancing through the window down the road. Suddenly her face beamed. She forgot her rumpled dress as it had dried on her, her disordered hair. "Glenn's coming! I hear his engine. Oh, boy!" Out of the room she flew.

Vira and Glenn came up the road. The story was repeated. Dick returned to his radioplane; Garrick to sifting crank reports of the whereabouts of the fast scout cruiser.

"Vira," said Glenn ardently, the moment they were alone, "I don't take 'No' this time— nor even 'Wait'."

Vira blushed. "Just as soon as we get Ruthie."

"Here's the first report that I place any confidence in," shouted Garrick in a tone that could be heard all over the boathouse. "It's from a freighter—just off Seaville—sighted a boat answering the description of the 'Bacchante' putting into the Great South Bay."

"That creeks up with Ruth's Fire Island message!" called Dick from below. "The Bacchante must have rounded the Island. I guess she could; she's fast enough."

"How's the work coming on, Dick?" shouted Garrick, all energy now with the first wireless clue. "It'll be twilight in an hour. Can you hurry it up?"

"All ready now. I've been all dressed up with nowhere to go for fifteen minutes!" cried back Dick from below.

They swung open the doors and ran the radioplane down the skidway, calling back to McKay to drive Mrs. Walden across the Island to Seaville. The radioplane struck the quiet water of the harbor, the staccato whirr of the two propellors rose to a screech. They were off in a cloud of spray, leaping lightly from the surface to the air, and waving a gay goodby as Nita clasped her hands as if in prayer and Vira drew close to Glenn.

The flight to Seaville was only a matter of minutes for there was no time to lose before darkness.

At Seaville a hasty survey disclosed no sign of the "Bacchante" but there was a tremendous crowd down on a bulkhead and they could see them waving and hear their shouts. Dick brought the radioplane down to the water and a couple of small motor boats put out.

"We've got that Curtis and the Larue girl!" shouted a man with a big brass star of the local police force on his chest.

Dick glanced at Garrick. "Anchor here. We must take the time. We must give them the third degree."

Curtis was sour; Rae nervously triumphant. They had been deserted, put ashore, double-crossed. Was it possible that they, too, were merely tools of the man-at-the-top? Who was it then? Georges had been eliminated and was in jail with his mouth sealed. Brock was out of the way, a lonely prisoner ready to turn state's evidence to save his miserable hide. Who, then? Where was Ruth?

In spite of her capture, Rae looked happier than she had been for days. She was holding on to Jack's arm with the air of possession that seemed to compensate for everything. Curtis did not look so pleased. He was thinking of the vanishing fortune an dthe frolics he saw glimmering away in the past.

Suddenly Rae shook his arm. "Dreaming of those hussies? Jack, you're mine—I can't let anyone have you—even when I'm playing the game. These damsels have ditched us! We might better have stayed in our own class. There's good pickings in the cabarets! Lord knows what will happen, now. Here's that Garrick—and Dick. I could tear the eyes out of the whole smart bunch—especially Ruth Walden. I never trusted her—she's too smart!"

As Garrick and Dick came up, Curtis had his cue from Rae. A clean breast was the next best thing to a clean get-away.

"Talk about Kidd and Morgan and Blackbeard!" he exclaimed in anxious disgust. "They were piker pirates! They plundered their pals, I've read. Well, so did this beast—and he carried off a girl, too, a ten-million dollar prize!"

Garrick shot question after question. "Why, the 'Bacchante' was a floating treasure house—the jewels of the Gerard robbery, the Parr jewels—the stuff from a score of others. There was money, oh, I don't know how much, the profits of the bootleg scheme, of looting wine cellars all over the Island, of the Inner Circle." Jack swore as he thought of the massed wealth from which he had been "defrauded."

"Why was the 'Bacchante' here?" demanded Garrick.

"To take him off; he came across by car from the Radio Central, as soon as he got me—damn him!—with the boat into the open ocean, safe—Professor Vario, of course!"

"Professor Vario!" echoed Dick in amazement.

"Yes, Professor Vario, head of the biggest gang of bootleggers, blackmailers and dress-suit yeggman I guess you ever heard of. Yeh—Georges was the fellow pulled 'em in; Brock was the roughneck—Rae and I were the decoys—Ruth, Vira, Glenn and the others were their cover. Damn his eyes."

"But—the robberies?" queried Dick.

"Doesn't it explain the robberies? To amass a small fortune, of course. That guy was born money-hungry—and girl-crazy! I know his game. He dragged me into his dirty work—fool that I was—then he expected all the time to come along at the right time, posing as a hero to Ruth, rescuing her from me. Then to Bermuda, the Bahamas, Martinique, anywhere—I don't know. Only I do know now that Vario intended all along to marry that girl—and get ten millions!"

"Explain?" echoed Garrick. "It explains a lot of things. For instance, at the Binnacle, what really happened was that you, Jack, double-crossed Vario and tried to get away with Ruth yourself, and he caught you. It just gave him his first chance to play hero, eh?" Curtis nodded sullenly. "And the night of the dictagraph. With his wave meter, Vario discovered it, found that all his secrets were being spilled in the air, and jammed in on the dictagraph wave length."

Jack listened as if it was the clanking of a chair. He was afraid of Garrick. "Then that broadcasted poison pen message. First Vario had allowed you to get Ruth into a dangerous position at the Binnacle from which he rescued her and played hero. Then this elopement story, to compromise her. But he had you right where he wanted you. How? the bigamy charge, of course!"

Rae was now blazing. She might battle Jack. No one else could. She would perjure her little soul but she would fight him clear.

"Do you know the conclusive thing?" Garrick turned to Dick. "That postcard, about last night at the Radio Central told me something. How did my alarm fail? You know, Dick, there's a switch between the studio room and the actual sending apparatus upstairs—not that switch we saw before us, but another. They use it whenever anyone broadcasting tries to put over a bit of advertising or chicanery or if the singer or speaker is rotten, swing the switch and put on a phonograph or something. A million explanations will do, later. The point is that he learned that I was there, found out what I was doing and choked it off—thereby betraying himself. He has been under cover ever since and this is the first information I've had of him all day—although, without letting Dick or anyone else know of my suspicion. I had private detectives and the police looking for him quietly." He nodded over toward one of the Astra men with the policeman in the crowd whom Dick had not seen. Then to the man. "How long before we came did you get these people?"

"Not ten minutes, sir."

"And the 'Bacchante,'" which way did it head?"

"He must have got a motorboat somewhere; put out to it the minute it hove in sight; then sent these people ashore after a fight or something. I should say it headed southeast—by east."

"Come—Dick!"

"Just a second, Guy. Whose hat was it, Rae, that held the jewels at Gerard's?"

"Mine, of course." Defiantly.

"And what was in the tower with the searchlight at Gerard's that night?"

"Ruth and Glenn." This was spiteful. "We threatened them. But it was the last time."

"And why were the Walden pearls returned?"

"It was his idea, Vario's—to involve her, tie her up tighter, so she wouldn't dare squeal."

They jumped into the motorboat and a few minutes later the whirring of the propellers and the gorgeous cutting of spray gave them another leap off into the air.

"They've a twenty-minute start," shouted Garrick, adjusting his headgear in the rush of air. "Thank heaven for the light. What a sunset!"

Dick flew by his compass in the direction the Astra man had indicated, then began a serious of ever widening horizontal loops. It decreased his direct distance, but it enabled him to cover a wider range in case Vario had turned the course of the "Bacchante" when he got out of sight of land. Fast as the scout cruiser was it could not compete with him for speed. Garrick, with his eye glued to a glass with splendid German lenses, swept the sea.

They had not been flying ten minutes in this fashion and Dick was considering the turn on the southernmost swing of the loop when Garrick shouted above the rush of air, and pointed ahead, further south.

Dick depressed his altitude and they swung along until shortly with the naked eye could be made out a boat which was without doubt the "Bacchante," far out to sea.

As they watched, it deliberately turned and headed back, toward them. Garrick trained the glass toward it. What did it mean?

"By heaven!" he exclaimed. "What's that speck between us and him?" Can it be someone—swimming? My God—it is—it is Ruth?"

Could it be that Ruth had seen and taken a last long chance, that she had gone overboard, risking everything on a Marathon swim, at that hour, with not a chance in a million of making the shore?

As the radioplane came nearer the water and nearer the struggling swimmer it became evident that the race between the plane and the cruiser was a losing one for the cruiser.

"Here, Guy, take this plane. I'll take the radio!"

Garrick seized the other of the double set of controls. A moment later he had taxied in spray and was rocking and pitching only a few feet from the swimmer. It was ticklish business but he maneuvered until he was able to swing about. Fortunately the sea was comparatively calm. As for Ruth, she was still fresh. Her long-distance swimming counted now in the balance for her life.

As Garrick, with a final effort with Dick, dragged her aboard, she almost collapsed in Dick's arms.

"Take care of her, Guy, for a minute!" Dick turned to his radio apparatus and as he did so Garrick say that the "Bacchante," long before she was beaten, had turned and was going away at top speed. "There!" Dick swung a switch. A little light gleamed overhead. He swung another. Another signal overhead changed. "Go!"

Like a bolt flew the arrangement overhead, a long torpedo-like affair of aluminum, with wings and pontoons, for all the world like the hydroaeroplane on which they were

It was flying, with the buzz of a hornet!

Dick pressed a lever. It swung in its flight.

"The principle of the thing is that I use Hertzian waves to actuate relays on the radioplane—that is, I send a child with a message. The grown man, through the relay, so to speak, does the work. So, you see, I can sit here and send my little David anywhere to strike down Goliath!"

In the sunset Vario on the "Bacchante" must have seen it, sensed it, for he knew nothing of Dick's work. He changed his course. Instantly Dick pulled a lever and the radioplane changed its course by exactly the same degree. It was like a conscience pursuing.

They could not see Vario beside the man at the wheel. He had his revolver, whether to intimidate the man or not, could not be determined. As the hornet swooped straight at him, however, he fired once, twice, three times at it. No marksmanship of Vario's could stop that thing. He seemed to realize it. For an instant he hesitated, then quickly turned the gun on himself—and fired.

As Vario sank to the deck, Garrick nerved himself for the explosion of the radioplane. To his amazement the little thing circled like a wasp, turned, and started back.

"They'll stand by, now, muttered Dick. "Not a reason in the world then to send that little treasure ship to Davy Jones!"

It was late and dark when the "Bacchante" limped up and cast anchor off the Seaville wireless station, towing Defoe's radioplane and its mother flying boat.

Nita Walden had been sitting for hours in her car by the beach in front of the station, her eyes glassy, staring over the waters. She was shivering with fear. "Will they never come back?" Oh, Ruth, Ruth, Ruth!"

Suddenly she saw a slim, dripping figure of a girl running up the beach. She winked, stared harder. "My Ruth—at last!" She pulled the curly head down to her and sobbed, joyously.

"And she's promised to revise the ceremony—and put the word 'obey' back again— only I don't expect her to do it!"

Through her tears and hysterical sobs Nita Walden saw Dick and Garrick just behind him. She opened her arms and drew Dick toward herself and Ruth.

"I suppose I may have the job of detective watching the wedding presents?" laughed Garrick.

"Really, mother, Gug saved me—you might say—on wngs of wireless!"

Nita Walden spread her arms farther, caught Garrick's coat, drew him over, as the tears trickled down her face and planted a kiss on his cheek.

Garrick took her arm. "Nita, for your sake as well as Ruth's, come into the station. We ought to broadcast the truth. They'll fix up a little bite to eat, too—maybe a toast!"

He glanced over at Dick, as Ruth struggled away from his lips.

"May I—may I—broadcast our announcement, Ruth?" pleaded Dick.

Ruth sank back in his arms. "Yes . . Dick . . I'll tell the world!"

HORACE WINNINGS E. L. PRESIDENT

Convention to Be Held in Decatur Next Year.

Horace Winnings was elected president of the Decatur district Epworth League convention held in Cisco this year June 15 and 16. The other officers are:

First vice president — Mildred Sproull, Decatur.

Second vice president—Margaret Dyerman, Bement.

Third vice president—Elizabeth Henry, Decatur.

Fourth vice president —Webster Markland, Decatur.

Secretary treasurer—Ralph Stouffer, Decatur.

IN DECATUR NEXT YEAR.

The convention will be held in Decatur next year at St. Paul's Methodist church. Seventy-two people were registered delegates, but the attendance was more than 100. The convention was opened by devotionals led by Miss Vivian Coyle, following which committees were appointed and the different departments of the League were discussed. The main address of the afternoon was given by Prof. A. C. Piersol of Illinois Wesleyan.

Following this the Bement chapter challenged the balance of the district to a ball game.

A fine banquet was served by the women of Cisco in the evening.

EVENING PROGRAM.

The devotionals for the evening were in charge of John Schaddows of Bement and the address of the evening was given by Rev. E. G. Sandmeyer.

Friday morning was given over to the business session, the devotionals being in charge of J. B. Austin, of Decatur. Communion service, installation of officers and consecration for the new year's work was in charge of district superintendent, T. N. Ewing.

SCOVILLE PREACHES ON FOUR H'S

Large Audience At Central Church of Christ.

Taking the four H's from the famous story of the Good Samaritan, as recorded in Luke 10, for a background, Dr. Chas. Reign Scoville, evangelist, told a congregation which filled the auditorium of the Central Church of Christ Friday night there are four classes of people in this world: those who are hurt, those doing the hurting, the heedless and the helpful. "Which are you?"

"The Lord Jesus Himself was the first Good Samaritan," declared Dr. Scoville. "He found humanity robbed, stripped, bleeding, plundered, profaned and almost disinherited. He stooped to save, applied the balm in Gilead. He furnished the oil and the wine in His teaching which is yet to cure the world's ills."

CALLS FOR SACRIFICE.

"Some of you clamor for doctrine but Christ asks for deeds," continued the speaker. "Some of you boast of Apostolic Succession but this age is demanding Sacrificial Succession. You might have a pedigree for your horse running back to the Mayflower but if your horse is dead of what value is the pedigree? No, brother, you are going to bleed if you are to bless; the Gospe of a broken heart needs the ministry of bleeding hands."

In his closing remarks, Dr. Scoville said, "The man who exalts service to his neighbor and who on all all occasions is boasting about what he does for men is just as big a fake and is making a blunder just as stupendous as the man who is forever worshipping the Priest and Levite and forgets the service he owes men. "Pure religion and undefiled before God and Father is to visit the fatherless and the widow in their affliction—just as much as to keep yourself unspotted from the world."

"We need the Lord's Day of worship to prepare us for six days of work. And, we need the six days of work, with their toil, with their problems, with their heartaches and the thousand and one experiences to prepare us properly to worship on the Holy Day."

TOPIC FOR SATURDAY NIGHT.

Dr. Scoville announced as his topic for Saturday night, the last week day service of the revival, "The Second Coming of Christ."

Had Liquor.

Everett May, a colored section hand, was arrested early Saturday morning at the intersection of Sangamon and Seventh streets for possessing and transporting liquor. He pleaded guilty at once before Justice Noble and was fined $106.15.

T. E. M'NAMARA FINDS AUTOMOBILE

Not Stolen But Taken to Garage By Mistake.

T. E. McNamara's Dort car, reported stolen, has been recovered. It was in the O. E Bruce garage. A traveling man had called up the garage and requested that a man be sent to take his Dort car to the garage. It happened that the two Dorts were standing close together at the curb and the garage man got the wrong one.

When Mr. McNamara went to get his car it was not where he had left it and he naturally supposed it was stolen. The mistake was discovered Friday evening when the garage man called up police headquarters and told Sergeant Wood he had the car and how he got it.

23 STORES TO SELL FIREWORKS

Fire Chief Platt Completes Investigation of Buildings.

Twenty-three Decatur stores have taken out permits for the handling of Fourth of July ammunition, three of these being wholesale and the rest, retail places. Fire Chief Platt has completed investigation of these places and given his approval for their handling fireworks. As the ordinance provides that application to handle fireworks must be made thirty days before the Fourth of July, no more applications can now be received.

MARRIED.

STRATMAN-HUGHES.

The wedding of Walter H. Stratman and Edna J. Hughes, both of Decatur, took place Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the parsonage of the Second Presbyterian church, the ceremony being performed by Rev. H. W. Trueblood. The single ring ceremony was used. They were attended by E. A. Potzp, and Miss Gladys L. Howard. The couple went to housekeeping immediately in their home, 1275 West King street.

If You Are Well Bred

You always treat an older woman with respect.

In these days, when mothers seem as young as their daughters it is natural that much of the formality we once associated with older women has disappeared.

However, the thoughtful girl never forgets the courtesies due her elders, and she embraces every opportunity to be of service.

CONGREGATIONAL PICNIC BIG EVENT

Something Doing All the Time.

One of the most unusual and the prettiest picnics held for some time at Fairview was the Congregational church picnic last evening. The pavilion was decorated with great bunches of vari colored balloons that swayed and bobbed in the breeze.

Before the supper was served there were contests and games for all the picnicers. Suit case races, and other novel games were played by the younger people while the older ones did not stay out of the fun for long but dressed up in old coats and hats and raced, too.

WEAR COLORED HATS.

While the supper was being served, colored, hand made hats, made by Mrs. W. F. Hardy and Mrs. C. C. Caldwell were passed out to everyone. The usual good picnic dinner was served that had been brought by the members of the church.

After the ice cream the children flocked to the big grassy plot south of the pavilion and played games and entered contests. The cords fastening up the big bunches of balloons had been cut and every child had caught at least one of the bright bubbles. With their colored caps, gay balloons and the bright dresses of the girls, the grass south of the pavilion was like a flower garden come to life.

MANY CONTESTS.

There were pie eating contests, barrel races, and other unusual and entertaining stunts.

One of the games that excited the most interest and laughter was the attempt to drink Whistle from bottle that had nipples fitted over the neck. The women competed with each other in attempts to drive nails while the men peeled potatoes. There was something interesting and funny going on all the time and not a person was permitted to stop enjoying themselves for even a minute.

There were about 200 people there and with all the red, yellow, blue, green colors, the shouts and laughing, and the continual moving and dancing of the children, the place was the most beautiful and facinating presented at a Sunday School picnic.

Rev. Harry Meyer was in general charge of the stunts and entertainment.

GUARDSMEN HOME FROM CAMP GRANT

Special Training Big Help to Men.

The twenty-five members of the three Decatur units, Headquarters company, A company and the regimental band, accompanied by Regimental Adjutant Captain Jack Powers and Lieutenant Robert L. Crisp of A company, arrived home at 4:35 Friday afternoon from the preliminary training school at Camp Grant, Rockford.

The men were given a great work-out and they learned much that will be useful on their trip to Camp Grant, July 23 to Aug. 8. Instead of long hikes, much of the training this year will be on the rifle range. The men will occupy the barracks at Camp Grant instead of tents, and they will have all modern conveniences. The women of Rockford Woman's Community board have planned to give the soldiers a boat ride on the Rock river July 31, and there will be other attractive features on the tour or camp duty.

VISITED BY OFFICIALS.

Lieutenant Governor Fred Sterling Major General Black and Major General Milton S. Foreman visited the men during their stay in Camp Grant. The Decatur men were highly complimented on their efficiency.

Lieut. Robert L. Crisp, who is in command of A company since the resignation of Captain Arthur D. Wilson, wants about twenty-five more men, and is ready to enlist at least that many before going to camp. He would prefer ex-service men, but would take any earnest man who wants military training and is physically fit. Two buglers are needed for his company. Lieutenant Crisp announced Friday that hereafter lemonade, doughnuts and coffee will be served in his company after drill each Friday night.

A machine-gun company, to be located at Paris, is now being organized and will be a part of the One Hundred and Thirtieth Infantry.

Fashion Notes

By Consolidated Press Leased Wire To The Review.

AFTERNOON CLOAKS.

Paris, June 17.—Afternoon cloaks of charmeuse are often trimmed with shell motifs of charmeuse down the front and along the hem, the shells being usually in a slightly lighter shade than cloak itself. The correct color is of white monkey, which is considered to be a summer fur and which is being used more and more extensively on summer gowns and cloaks. Chinchilla, tailless ermine, sable and gray squirrel are also used on these wraps of charmeuse or crepe de chine. Of course theare is not much warmth in the wrap, but there is a great deal of beauty.

THE BLACK FROCKS.

London, June 17.—For the black frock, which is still seen as a quiet note amid the other blazing frocks at afternoon tea, there is a new and effective bit of trimming. It is a narrow belt of shaded ribbon, twisted twice or even three times around the waist. In front the belt is ornamented by a heavy trimming of padded fruit, which may hang in a colorful garland almost to the knees. The fruit may also be arranged in a coronet effect, somewhat like the front of a Russian turban.

COMMENCEMENT GIFTS.

New York, June 17.—Three little gifts for girl graduates are a small vanity box, a flexible bracelet and a white gold wrist watch. The vanity case, without which no dressing outfit, even that of a young girl, is today complete, may be in any pastel shade though after all a plain black leather is the most satisfactory finish.

HOW TO MAKE TWO COOLING DRINKS

While iced tea is refreshing, combinations of fruit juices with iced tea are rather nicer as afternoon thirst quenchers. A cool drink, served with plain crisp cookies or tiny sandwiches, means little work to a housekeeper and has a telling phychological effect on her and her guest.

Some suggestions:

TEA PUNCH.

One cup strong fresh tea, three lemons, two oranges, one cup fresh strawberry or raspberry juice, two cups sugar, two cups water, cracked ice.

Squeeze juice from lemons and strain. Cut oranges in slices. Boil sugar and water ten minutes. Mix lemon, strawberry juice and tea while tea is hot. Add sirup and pour mixture over cracked ice. Add orange slices and serve.

CHERRY ADE.

Two cups cherry juice, two cups sugar sirup, one cup orange juice, cracked ice, one cup tea.

To make the sirup, boil one and one-half cups sugar with one-half cup water till sirup threads. Stone cherries and just heat to start the juice.

Press through a cheesecloth. Mix the sirup, orange and cherry juices and let stand on ice till thoroughly chilled.

Add cracked ice and pour over hot tea. Serve with large perfect cherries in glasses.

GOWN OF SURPRISES SEASON'S FAVORITE

This is a season when dresses may do such unexpected things as this frock does.

The drapery starts on the left shoulder as a cape. It is continued on the right shoulder (front) as a wide and flowing sleeve, then ripples down from the waist to below the hem as an exceedingly diverting tunic. And it does the same thing in the back.

If you are searching for fashionable points, here is a dress that will give you all of them—round neckline, odd sleeves, side drapes, irregular hem, low waistline.

Frocks of this type are shown in canton and other crepe weaves in all shades, and are very popular.

CITY ADVERTISING

NOTICE FOR BID.

Sealed bids will be received by the City Council of the City of Decatur, Illinois, at their office in the Council Room in the Court House in said City, from this date until the 26th day of June, A. Holzhauser's Hurling and Hitting Features

Commie Ace Allows Peoria But Three Hits and Drives Out Four—Take 6 to 1 Game.

BY HOWARD V. MILLARD.

Turning out as pretty an exhibition of twirling as you could hope to find in any league, Adolph Holzhauser gave the Peoria Tractors but three scattered hits Friday and won a 6 to 1 verdict over the Jackson nine.

It was the first game the Commie ace had worked since last Sunday when he lost a heart breaker to Terre Haute and he more than did his part in evening the series with the Peorians. Four hits in as many times at bat was the big boy's offering with the stick and the first single drove in the first two Commie runs of the day.

SETS THEM DOWN.

For the first seven innings but 21 men faced him. In the second Al Platte singled to right but was thrown out trying to steal while in the fourth Sonntag was safe on Sorrell's error but Holzhauser proceeded to trap him off first.

With two down in the eighth Jack Kost sent out a double to left. Sonntag was an easy victim for Holzhauser at first. In the ninth Stumpf went down while Lefty Palm who is considered quite a hitter by Jackson, was sent in to pinch hit for Swigart, his best effort was three swings. Holzhauser issued his only base on balls of the day to Murphy and then Jackson poled a triple to right that saved the Trax from being white washed.

SWIGART EASY.

Swigart who pitched a one hit game against Rockford his last time out didn't show any of that ability against the Commies and was nicked for 13 safeties during the game.

He got out of a bad hole in the first owing to a bit of careless base running out in the second the locals put over three runs. Bourg and Sorrells had been retired when the fun started. Runser walked and Dave Lamb poled a double down the third base line. Jackson told Swigart Holzhauser was a good hitter but he couldn't get the ball by the big boy's bat and he slammed a clean single to center scoring Runser and Lamb. He took second on the throw in. Brausen drew four wide ones and Philpott scored Holzhauser with a single to right. On an attempted double steal Brausen was nailed at the plate.

GET THREE MORE.

Swigart was rapped for a hit in every inning but the sixth but it was not until the seventh that three more counters were chased over.

Holzhauser slammed out his third hit. Brausen sacrificed him to second. Philpott hit a high one to left but the wind caught the ball bringing it back toward the diamond and Menze was just able to touch it. The hit went for a double and Holzhauser pulled up at third. Cole walked filling the bases. Strain hit to Murphy but he fumbled the ball long enough to allow Holzhauser to score although he got Strain at first. Sonntag kicked Bourg's grounder while Philpott and Cole went home. Sorrells singled to right and stole second but Runser popped out to Swigart ending the inning.

EXTERMINATOR WINS BROOKLYN HANDICAP

Adds $10,000 to Already Large Amount of Winnings.

New York, June 17.—Exterminator Friday won the Brooklyn Handicap for $10,000 with Grey Lag second and Polly Ann third. The time for the mile and a furlong was 1:50. Captain Alcock and Bessagliere also ran.

Exterminator, whose time was within one second of the handicap record, was accorded the greatest ovation heard in many years on a local track. Speculation was largely confined to Exterminator at 7 to 5, while Grey Lag closed the favorite at 7 to 10.

Exterminator, the "iron horse of the American turf," carrying the crushing weight of 135, with A. Johnson up, followed the pace set alternately by Polly Ann and Grey Lag.

At the home turn the Kilmer gelding saved ground by slipping through along the inner rail. Polly Ann then retired, but Grey Lag held on gamely.

Polly Ann finished five lengths behind the leaders, driving hard to hold Captain Alcock safe by a neck.

BLOOMERS GIVE VETS A TRIMMING

Drive Out 22 Hits for 18 to 4 Win Friday.

Danville, Ill., June 17.—The Bloomers took revenge on the poor Vets here Friday for the double defeat of Thursday when they put over an 18 to 4 win. Delon was knocked out in one frame while Browns was touched for eleven blows in six innings and McGinnity was treated no better by the visitors when he went in.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

AN EXCITING BATTLE.

Boston, June 17—Grimes' home run to the left field corner in the 12th inning, proved the winning factor for Chicago over Boston, 7 to 6 Friday. In the fourth and fifth Right Fielder Nicholson made double errors, muffing fly balls and then throwing wildly, and was responsible for four Chicago runs. Manager Mitchell was banished by Umpire Klem. A driving catch by Friberg in the 11th, saved the game for Chicago.

Score—			R.H.E.
Chicago	010	130 001 001—7	15 1
Boston	111	101 100 000—6	13 4

Batteries — Jones, Osborne, Kauffman and O'Farrell; Oeschger, McQuillan, Fillingim and O'Neil, Gowdy.

CARDS WALLOPED.

Brooklyn, June 17—Brooklyn made 17 hits off Doak and Walker Friday, defeating St. Louis 12 to 2, and tightening the race for second place. Every one of the Dodgers made one or more hits, Johnston, Wheat and Mitchell getting three each. Hornsby made his 13th home run of the season in the eighth inning.

Score—			R.H.E.
Brooklyn	300	026 10x—12	17 1
St. Louis	100	000 010—2	11 1

Batteries — Grimes and Miller; Doak, Walker and Clemons, Ainsmith.

THREE FROM PIRATES.

New York, June 17—New York made it three straight from Pittsburgh, 7 to 1 in another one-sided game. Jess Barnes held the Pirates in check while his mates knocked Glazner off the mound in the second inning. It was the seventh straight for the Giants and 11 victories out of their last 12 games.

Score—			R.H.E.
Pittsburgh	000	000 100—1	8 3
New York	220	030 00x—7	11 1

Batteries—Hollingsworth, Glazner, Yellowhorse, Carlson and Gooch, J. Barnes and Snyder.

RING GOES GOOD.

Philadelphia, June 17—Relieving Meadows in the third inning with none out, and Burns on second base, Ring blanked Cincinnati Friday for the remaining seven innings without a hit, and Philadelphia easily defeated the visitors, 7 to 2. Home runs were made by Williams and Walker, both Phillies.

Score—			R.H.E.
Cincinnati	020	000 000—2	4 1
Philadelphia	202	000 30x—7	12 0

Batteries—Luque, Markle and Hargrave; Meadows, Ring and Peters.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

BROWNS TAKE LEAD.

St. Louis, June 17—St. Louis went into first place in the American league Friday by virtue of their victory over Washington, 15 to 2, and New York's defeat by Detroit.

The Browns are now one half game ahead of New York.

Kenneth Williams knocked out his sixteenth home run, and McManus also hit a circuit drive.

TIGERS OUTSLUG YANKS.

Detroit, June 17— Detroit had the best of a slugging match with New York Friday, defeating the Yankees, 9 to 4 for the third successive time. Both Hoyt and O'Doul were ineffective, while Dauss, who succeeded Ehmke when the latter was driven from the box in the second held New York safe the rest of the way.

Score:			R.H.E
New York	110	000 020—	4 13 1

ILLINOIS-BEARS FAVORED TO WIN

Great Track Classic on At Stagg Field Saturday.

[By the Associated Press]

Chicago, June 17.—California and Illinois ruled as favorites in the second annual track and field and meet of the national intercollegiate athletic association at Stagg Field Saturday.

The day of the meet dawned with prospects of a hot duel between the crack California team, winners of the eastern intercollegiate games, and Coach Harry Gill's Illini, champions of the western conference and winners of the 1921 national meet.

OTHER CLASSY TEAMS.

Nebraska's constituents hung with laurels of the Missouri valley conference; Penn State and Notre Dame were picked as runnersup with Wisconsin and Minnesota the most threatening contenders for secondary honors.

The cream of the nation's output of college stars, numbering about 300 and wearing the colors of 54 schools, were entered in the midway meet to compet for national supremacy on track and field with few exceptions, all the brilliant performers of the year competed.

RECOMMEND RULES.

Proposed changes in rules governing the national meet, recommended meeting of coaches last night, were before all members of the association today for approval or rejection. The recommendations were:

(1). That future meets be held on second Saturday in June, with June 9, tentatively set as the date for the 1923 meet.

(2.) That the membership of competing teams be unlimited, but that expense money shall be pro rated for only ten men on a team.

(3). That six places shall count in the scoring as follows: 5 for first, 4 for second, 3 for third, 2 for fourth, 1 for fifth and one half point for sixth place.

(4). That the western conference be asked to advance the date of its annual games from the first Saturday in June to the last Saturday in May.

Old Rivals Meet.

Monticello, Ill., June 17.—Monticello and White Heath for years rivals on the baseball field will clash Sunday. The best crowd of the season is expected out for the two battles.

Shop Talk.

Wayside tales:

Banks: Do you believe in pursuit or in possession?

Kneedel (his tailor): Both. Possession only comes after so much per suit.

Yanks Give Up Top Place For First Time of Season

One New York Club Finally Ousted—Detroit Team Is Playing Great Baseball at Present.

BY JOHN B. FOSTER.

New York, June 17.—Bumping day was celebrated in the American league on June 16 of this year. The Yanks were bumped right out of first place into second speed. The little old wise men who said it was likely to happen when the Yankees set sail for the west may sit up and look around this morning wearing a condescending smile and a soft collar. They win.

For the first time since the season began the New York Americans are not at the top and if the western clubs of the National league were anything but a weather prediction they, too, might smile, because they had their chance to put the Giants out of first place. The Yanks just managed to clear June 15 before they went overboard.

MAKE HISTORY.

In no other year in baseball annals have two clubs from the same city carried on for so long a time in first. The Giants in the early days of the race were not first. They were second at the first week-end. Then they went to first place and have been there ever since. The Yanks were first right at the first and held it to June 16.

The St. Louis Browns have not played the best of baseball. On the other hand they have been playing with deadly earnestness while the Yanks have been playing with bad luck and some luck that was commonplace. They haven't been batting when they needed it and their pitchers have been none too assertive.

TIGERS GOING GREAT.

Detroit has been playing the best baseball in the American league and except the success of the New York Giants the best baseball in either league. Again the Tigers have proved that they are the dark horse of the American race and they are to be feared if their pitchers ever take the bit in their teeth.

The Giants defeated Pittsburgh again and Brooklyn defeated St. Louis. The National League race is going plumb to seed and if they don't stir up something to defeat New York the National affair will be as humdrum by the middle of July as a phonograph concert in an asylum for the deaf. The Nationals are in hard luck with only one kite and the rest all tail.

CARDS NEED HITTING.

Two players of the St. Louis Nationals filled up on disappointment powders during the winter and that is one reason why the Cards are not cutting the figure they promised to their St. Louis friends. Clemons and Lavan are not batting at anything like their speed of 1921 and the St. Louis team isn't powerful enough to get along without all the batting it can get.

There are other reasons that account for the non-success of the Cards. The pitchers haven't met expectations but somehow that seemed to be forecasted in the spring training and the boss of the club can't say that "coming events did not cast their shadows before."

CUTSHAW HELPS.

When Pittsburgh let George Cutshaw get away and Detroit took him the National League did not play its hand very cutely for there are three clubs in the National League that could have used George just as beneficially as Detroit is using him. The Detroits have a fighting chance in the American league despite the uncertainty of their pitching and Cutshaw with his steadiness at second and a batting average around .300 is doing his part to help it.

St. Louis would have been as well off with Cutshaw on the infield to help out as it is with its present outfit. He wouldn't hurt Chicago's chances in the least nor those of Philadelphia and after the Pittsburgh situation is studied a little it doesn't look as if it would have hurt Pittsburgh to have clung to him at least another year.

BAIT For BUGS

By H. V. MILLARD

Earl Sykes and his Bloomers arrived in the city Friday evening and if there was ever a team glad to get out of a town it was the Bloomers Friday, after their final game with the Vets. In speaking of the treatment over there Sykes said that in all his years' of experience in baseball he had never seen the equal. "Why I even received a letter from the chief of police informing me that his men would take any of our players out of the hall park if they opened their mouths to protest."

Well, maybe if the Vets management can keep on the good side of the chief of police he can make them a mighty valuable man. Whenever a pitcher gets too strong for the McGinnity hitters just have "THE LAW" take him out.

Speaking of Danville the railroad companies are getting rich on furnishing transportation to players being reported for the Vets. Five new ones have been signed recently and several others are on their way. Quite a contrast from the conditions in Decatur. Very few ball players have been reported to Decatur by Boss O'Leary. He knew what kind of players it would take to win in the Three Eye league and went out and got them.

Say did you note what Adolph Holzhauser did Friday. Guess that old boy can't smack the agate on the nose. We have Bill Jackson's word for it, that he is the best prospect in the Three Eye League. Bill has tipped off several of his friends who are scouting for big league clubs as to the ability of the Kansas City recruit.

Sykes informs us that he was told by Danville officials that such fellows as he and Dan O'Leary didn't have any business in baseball and that they would make the Commies walk the chalk when they came back to Danville. Well, we will make a little wager that if any of those fly cops take a Decatur player out of the ball park without being so ordered by an umpire that there will be fourteen others go with him. That's the way to break up that kind of work.

Frank Sweeney, the Peoria boy, who has been making quite a name for himself in college circles of the middle west while pitching for St. Viator, reported to Dan O'Leary Friday. He was sent here on an optional agreement by Clarence Rowland of the Columbus club.

Lyle Brown had his first workout Friday pitching to the Commies in hitting practice. He has a free and easy movement for a southpaw. We will probably see just how he can get by Saturday afternoon. The Three Eye is a pretty tough league for a youngster to break in.

Well, Bloomers, there isn't a team in the league we would rather beat than the Sykes nine but it will be a pleasure to play a club that knows what good rivalry is. If you beat the Commies you will be trimming the ball club. If the Commies lick you it will be the same ball club and none of the directors or blue coats.

Sykes informed some of his Danville tormentors that he was going over to a real town to play a real ball club but that he knew they wouldn't be written up for battling for their rights on the ball field.

Buster Woodworth has been hitting the agate at a terrific clip lately and it all comes about because Sykes has had him change his position at the plate. Buster always hit to right field but now he is cracking doubles and triples to left and center. Some change.

Lefty Quinn is to work against the Commies Saturday in the first game, leaving Morrison, Young or Romine for the Sunday double header. Applegate of three hit fame and Happy Jack Kotzelnick will probably be O'Leary's choice for the locals.

According to Danville reports the deal for the purchase of Lefty Pahlman has been called off. The excuse is that McGinnity didn't care to pay out as much money for Pahlman as was asked with the Danville team going as good as it is at the present time.

LOCO SECONDS IN 14 TO 1 TRIUMPH

Drive Out 16 Hits to Trim Brass Works Nine.

Playing errorless ball and driving out 16 sound wallops the Locomotive Seconds trimmed the Brass Works nine 14 to 1 Friday evening in a Commercial League game. The winners scored in every inning but the second and started off with a lead of five in the first frame. Shrine with four hits and Owens with three led the attack.

Sayre twirled fine ball for the Locos and allowed but four hits. Pete Brausen's hidden ball trick gave the losers their one run when Sayre got in the box without the ball and Behrns called a balk.

BOXING NEWS.

BY FAIR PLAY.

New York, June 17 — Some day some promoter who is offering what amounts to the funds of the National City bank to two pugilists, will come to the earth with a hard bump. The New York State Athlete Commission estimates that in the past year attendance at bouts has dropped forty per cent. This figure, given out today, may or may not give pause to those fighters who think they should receive Rockefeller's millions for going through twelve or fifteen rounds.

Tex Rickard intends to ask for a license to hold the Leonard-Tendler fight over in Jersey City, the reason being that he does not figure the New York Veoldrome will hold enough spectators to enable him to pay Leonard and Tendler their fancy prices and have a little remaining for himself.

The promoters idea is that nearly —if not quite—as many fans will crowd into the arena at Boyle's thirty acres to see the two lightweights do battle as stormed the wooden saucer the day Dempsey fought Carpentier. He may be right, but there are a lot of wise guys who figure he is wrong.

While wishing no one any bad luck the best thing that could happen to a bunch of boneheads who can do nothing but step a few rounds and think the public ought to mortgage their homes to see them do it, would be to have our promoters get a few financial wallops that would make them decide that our fighters must work for a reasonable sum, or else go to street cleaning or running elevators.

Jess Willard-Dempsey: Who would pay big money to see that bout? Not a great many. Yet the on again, off again man from Potawatomie seems to think the fans would be interested in seeing him try to move himself out of the way of Dempsey's fists. Bunk!

HIGH, NOT DIZZY

Willie Smith's as comfortable as though he were in a rocking chair as he paints the flagpole on the Bankers' Trust Building, Wall Street, New York.

Breaks Both Hands but Wins His Bout

New Orleans, La., June 17.—Notwithstanding that he broke both hands in the early rounds of a 15-round bout Friday night, "Happy" Littleton, of New Orleans, was given a referee's decision over Billy Shade of Los Angeles. Littleton weighed 161 pounds and Shade 166½.

Littleton broke his hands during the fifth round, up to which time he had all the best of the bout. Shade was the aggressor during the following rounds up to the opening of the twelfth when Littleton, although handicapped, made an effort to land a knockout punch during the remainder of the fight.

It was announced after the bout, that Littleton probably would not be able to fight again.

RACING NOTES

Those who thought that Friday was the time for Exterminator to be beaten and that Grey Lag would win the Brooklyn Handicap will have to revise their estimate of "Old Poison." The old fellow refuses to quit, and having defeated Grey Lag it looks as if he could win all the handicaps at a mile and a quarter or more with any reasonable weight.

Olympus, regarded as one of the best of Harry Payne Whitney's 3-year-old, is in form again after an attack of influenza, and will probably accompany Bunting to Latonia and start in the Kentucky Special to be run next Saturday. Whitney has another colt, Whiskaway, that is quite as good as either Olympus or Bunting.

WANTS A NATIONAL FLOWER.

New York Telegram: We know that summer is here, for the age old controversy as to what shall be the American national flower has been reopened.

It always requires hot weather to start this. It is just as indicative of the approach of the summer solstice as thunder showers or garlic in the milk.

Representative Kissell, of Brooklyn, has introduced a bill in Congress under the terms of which the daisy—that white and gold dweller in the fields and pastures, the commons and back lots from Maine to Mendocino and from Itasca to the Delta—shall be enthroned as the American flower.

For forty years and more the discussion has gone on. It flares up in June and dies down in October, just as the daisies do. There are supporters of the sun-flower, the golden rod, the magnolia and even the humble dandelion—all anxious to have their favorite blossom selected. Besides, limited groups would choose the rose, the violet, the pansy or the field lily. But the truth of the matter is that interest in the selection of a national flower has never been very vivid. Not one person in a hundred cares a whoop what flower is chosen.

MONUMENTAL NEWSPAPER OFFICES.

New York World: In offering prizes of $100,000 for designs for a new home to be built in commemoration of its seventy-five years of publication, the Chicago Tribune aims at a high ideal of architectural achievement. The building is to be "the most beautiful in the modern world," it is to be "a glory to journalism and to the city and a model of practicality," and it is to blend "artistic nobility and business effectiveness."

These are exacting requirements. They are not, however, impossible in an era of industrial architecture which has witnessed the adaptation of artistic nobility to practicality in the Woolworth Building; and a competition open to the architects of all countries and stimulated by a prize of $50,000 for the successful design contains the most potent of incentives to the realization of the ideal.

At any rate, the Chicago Tribune is preparing to erect a monument not alone to its own achievement but one to the general glory of journalism. It is an enterprise to arouse the common interest of the American press. Other newspapers in many cities and many lands have made their buildings in the past show-places of city architecture. The Chicago Tribune plans to carry the example yet further by making its printing-house a temple. And why not? Printing, as the art preservative of arts, is deserving no less than music and the drama of an artistic home.

Your Health

SUPERSTITIONS

BY DR. R. H. BISHOP.

The ancients had many deeply rooted superstitions concerning illness. Most of them have been proved to be well grounded on scientific facts.

Away back in the beginning of the history of medicine, it was known that a single attack of an infectious disease rendered the survivor, probably, and in most cases absolutely, immune to further attacks.

Today scientists use antivenins, substances extracted from snakes, for the same purpose that Galen, Nero's doctor, gave viper blood and viper flesh to his patients.

History states that the great Persian king, Mithridates, always fearing poisoning, tried all the possible antidotes known to his time, experimenting in sizes of doses on condemned prisoners.

Medieval doctors advised those bitten by mad dogs to eat the liver and drink the blood of the guilty dogs—"a hair of the dog that bit you." The modern Pasteur treatment for hydrophobia is a more refined use of this same idea.

About the time of the American Revolution, Jenner discovered that dairy folk infected by udder sores of cows (cowpox) became immune to smallpox. Thus was vaccine discovered, and countless millions of lives made safer.

Pasteur developed Jenner's discovery into a scientific working principle. The horse is actively immunized against diphtheria when the poison of that disease is injected into it. Then we take the serum from his blood and use it to confer passive immunity on human beings.

Besides the diseases named, we have antitoxins against lockjaw, meningitis, typhoid fever, typhus fever, cholera and others.

THE BAD GOLFER'S CONSOLATION.

I've never made a hole in one
Nor made a five-par hole in three,
My game the experts look upon
As one that's good enough for me,
And even Alex Ross exclaims
When I am on a green in two:
"Some day perhaps you'll win your games,
That shot was pretty fair for you."

I've never holed a brassie shot,
The birdies I have made are few,
In all the years I've played I've not
One boastful tale to tell anew,
The usual sevens mar my score
And now and then I get an eight,
My one speech at the club house door
Is "Anyhow, the weather's great."

I sometimes wonder, as I hear
The tales in locker room and grill,
If ever I schall engineer
A shot to cause so great a thrill,
If ever there shall come the day
When I shall smite the ball so well
That I may boast the self-same way
And have one glorious tale to tell.

But when I close my earthly task
And join that far-off golfing clan,
And they shall sit around and ask
My scores upon the links of man,
No shot heroic I'll recall—
The usual story will be mine:
"My game was nothing much at all,
But say, the weather there was fine!"

All children under seven years will meet at the court house and will be safely conducted to the park. The Camp Fire Girls and Boy Scouts will assist in caring for the children.

FISHERMEN AND SWIMMERS ACTIVE

River Between Dams Busy Place Now.

The section of the river just below the new dam was alive with fishermen and swimmers Friday afternoon. About three hundred feet below the dam the floods have washed up sand and formed a small beach. Here boys of all colors, sizes and ages were swimming or playing on the shore.

Nearer the dam several dozen men were fishing. All seemed to be having fairly good luck and one man had three fish, more than a foot long. Several times large fish were carried floundering and struggling through the gates of the dam. When once between this dam and the old one there is no means for the fish to escape and the place is an excellent one to fish.

On the south side of the river some fishermen had pitched a camp and there were several people out in boats. All these things made a wonderful scene which was only spoiled by the odor which floated up from the river below the dam. However the odor was not any worse here than in many sections of the city.

Smoke or Steam Clouds Cause Freak Spark Action

BY PAUL F. GODLEY

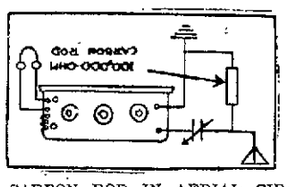
America's Foremost Radio Authority

A ship's radio operator some years ago was awakened in the early morning by a series of crackling and buzzing sparks jumping across the small spark gap used in all transmitting sets in those days.

He jumped from his bunk, rubbed his eyes and pinched himself. No one was working the set, yet there were sparks jumping across the gap!

It was uncanny.

He did not rest until he discovered the cause of this freaky behavior. Looking up at his aerial he found the cause of the phenomenon.



CARBON ROD IN AERIAL CIRCUIT TO OVERCOME EFFECTS OF SMOKE OR STEAM.

It was the smoke from the funnels of the steamer!

The same freak may happen anywhere if a cloud of smoke or steam passes through the antenna.

FUEL ACTION.

The combustion of fuel causes chemical changes which liberate particles of matter heavily charged with electricity. Striking the antenna these particles give off the greater portion of their charge.

This is accumulated by the aerial until it has developed enough potential to overcome the resistance of a small air gap in the circuit.

In most sets now there is no longer a spark gap, but a variable condenser in the circuit. Examination of this will disclose the presence of minute spark discharges which may occur at intervals of two or three seconds. If the antenna is being charged by the moving vapor particles at a sufficient rate, these discharges may occur very frequently, giving rise to a buzzing sound.

The energies represented by these discharges are very small. No harm to the operator will result from the handling of the circuit during their presence, although in many cases it is possible to distinctly feel them.

REMEDY.

Snow storms will often produce the same phenomenon.

These discharges produce the same effects in the head phones as heavy static. But this interference may be easyily overcome.

Connect a high resistance carbon rod—100,000 ohms—directly from the antenna to the earth.

This resistance will prevent the building up of high potentials in the antenna, but will not affect the much smaller ones built up by the signals.

"Smallest Set" Can Receive Concerts 75 Miles Away

A "smallest set," with a claim for greater distance in receiving radio concerts, has bobbed up.

It is the product of Sterling G. Sears of New York.

With it, Sears says, he can hear a program from a station 75 miles away, and even farther.

The reason is, his set has a vacuum tube as detector—which makes it much more sensitive and powerful than the sets using a crystal as detector.

Heretofore the "smallest sets" have been made with crystal detectors.

Sears says his is the first "smallest set" of the vacuum tube type. The complete apparatus is about as large as a book.

With this set, Sears won first price at the radio show held recently in New York.

INTEREST IN MEXICAN DEBT

Wall Street Also Has Decline of European Exchanges.

BY STUART P. WEST.

Wall Street, New York, June 17.—Interest was divided today between the effect of the Mexican debt settlement upon the market and the continued decline in the European exchanges. The Mexican announcement had been expected; it was only the terms that were in doubt.

The arrangement is less favorable for Mexican bondholders than that anticipated some time ago. There is to be no immediate repayment of accumulated interest, and in this lies the explanation of the recent 8 to 10 point decline from the high prices. On the other hand the promise of gradual amortization of these back payments along with the reduction of regular interest distribution from next January on, would seem to fully warrant the current selling prices.

MEX. "PETE" CLIMBS.

The stock of American companies interested in Mexico were bid up for a time but the only important move was in Mexican Petroleum which was altogether at one time 13 points from the low of Friday morning. In this instance however, the movement was not due so much to the Mexican agreement as it was to the discovery of valuable oil producing wells in an entirely new territory.

FRANCS IS CENTER.

Weakness in the exchanges, as has been the case right along, centers in French francs which dropped below the 8.70 cent level, as compared with 9.10 just prior to the breaking off of the German loan conference and 9.35 in April before the gathering at Genoa. German marks around .30 were very close to their absolute bottom, while Sterling at $4.43½ was off 8 cents in the pound from its recent high.

These declines are of course the aftermath of the bankers conference at Paris which failed because of French opposition, and reflects unquestionably international banking opinion that without a loan, Germany's ability to carry out the reparations program is altogether doubtful.

STEELS TAKE LEAD.

In the last half hour of the stock market steel shares took the lead and their advance caused prices to drop all through the list. The important thing about the market of the day was the stoppage of liquidation, the result of which was that the trading element operating on the short side decided that it was time to take in some of their contracts.

SALES MOUNT TO 550,000 SHARES

New York, June 17.—Confusing advances and declines attended Saturday's brief session. Prices were generally high at the outset, Mexican showing strength on the adjustment of the external debt. Profit taking resulted in general reactions during the first hour. Oils, motors and several of coalers and equipments were under pressure.

Later the list rallied under lead of Mexican Petroleum which increased its early advance of four points. There was urgent buying also of Independent steels at gains of 1 to 3 points.

The closing was firm. Sales approximated 550,000 shares.

Financial Notes.

New York, June 17— A stockholders meeting of the Lima Locomotive company has been called to meet in Richmond, Va., July 14 to consider a new refinancing plan. It is proposed that present 590,000 shares of $100, be converted into a no par common stock at the rate of two shares for one share of old.

Word was received from London that the Imperial Ottoman bank had announced a dividend of five per cent. This is the first distribution of dividends since 1917.

It is reported in local financial circles that Cuba expects to float a loan of $50,000,000 in the United States in the near futures.

Bituminous coal production increased 400,000,000 tons this week. Consumption was steady at 8,000,000. Reserves are estimated at $26,000,000.

Stockholders of the Booth Fisheries company will be called into session shortly to consider a plan to refund the $10,000,000 ten per cent debenture bond now outstanding.

According to the reports from Youngstown, Ohio, independent steel producers expect decided improvement in the production of non-union of coal in the next month.

The May operating revenue of the Market Street Railway company totalled $614,208 after taxes and the amount available for the bond interest.

Business News of Today

(Copyright, 1922, by Consolidated Press)

PROBLEM OF REBOUND.

New York, June 17—Nobody ever went broke taking profits. The truth of that old adage is unquestioned but thousands have gone broke discounting profits before they were hatched. There lies the chuck hole in the road of the American business situation today. Business, hurled against the hard wall of adversity, has rebounded with tremendous force and the problem now is to keep that rebound within bounds.

CROPS GOOD.

Crops are good but not extraordinary. They may turn out to be better or worse before the season is over. Prices for crops are good but they may rise or fall according to the unfailing ratio of world supply and demand before next autumn. Manufacturers are in better condition. Factories are increasing production to meet the constantly growing demand and more men are going on the payrolls every day.

Retail and wholesale trade is experiencing a remarkable betterment. Unemployment has ceased to be a factor in industrial and business life and the purchasing power of the nation is on the increase.

RACING AHEAD.

But the morale of business has bounced back faster than business. Business dispatches received within the last 24 hours indicate that there is a widespread tendency reveloping to discount improvement and profits that have not yet made their appearance. Cotton growers with satisfactory returns in sight at the present prices of the raw staple are talking of still higher prices and a world shortage.

ARE OPTIMISTIC.

Wheat growers are counting on even greater returns with their fields springing up with the early grain. Wool producers are holding rather than selling although bids for their products are over double what they obtained a year ago. Steel makers with their books crammed with orders have held off from announcing prices for the next quarter, and labor, with a spotty demand boosting wages in some sections, is ceasing to balance production costs against its demands.

MERELY AT NORMAL.

Business is back at normal but it is not abnormal and there is little likelihood that it will be. In spite of the rapid increase in construction activity, in demand for laborers in the harvest fields and factories and lumber mills there is no "boom" in prospect. The public has an ample amount of money to spend but there is a tendency to spend prospective profits and to gamble on future betterments which is a real menace to commercial stability.

FORECAST STILL GOOD.

Far-sighted business men are recognizing this and are waving a warning but in the meantime signs of improvement and encouragement for normal prosperity are not lacking.

BUILDERS RUSHED.

Producers of building materials are working at top speed and still are failing to keep pace with demand for lumber, cement, steel, roofing, glass, paint, brick and other commodities. Consumers of steel products are having difficulty in securing enough supplies to meet their needs and are worried over the failure of the manufacturers to name prices which will enable them to plan for the future.

LUXURIES INCREASE.

The demand for jewelry and automobiles, regarded as a sure measure of surplus money and purchasing power, is increasing steadily. Sugar, one of the basic commodities which has been in the dumps, has risen to levels where profits again seem certain and the demand is so great that refineries are working day and night.

RANGES GOOD.

The live stock ranges of the west never were in better condition with ample water and good feed and herds are fattening and increasing at a rate which has smoothed the wrinkles from the brows of the cattle men.

BORROWING DECREASING.

Seattle, June 17—One of the best signs in the conditions of the skilled and semi-skilled workers in the Pacific northwest is found in reports from pawnshops and from concerns affiliated with the National Federation of Remedial Loan Societies of New York. These reports show that borrowing on Jewelry, household furniture musical instruments amounts to only about one-third of such accommodations made during the latter part of 1921. Redemption of pledged goods have cleared the vaults and shelves of the recognized remedial loan offices.

COMMODITY NEWS.

By Consolidated Press Leased Wire

STEAM SHOVELS.

Marion, Ohio, June 17—The Marion Shovel company has recently reported an order for 100 steam shovels. This contract it is said cleans up the inventory on hand. Officials state that all the shovels made this year have been disposed of.

FURS.

Summerside, Prince Edward Isle, June 17—The production of silver black foxes this spring has been eminently satisfactory to ranchers here. Comparatively few losses in the valuable animals have been reported, and the farmers have prospects of big returns because of the growing demand from the United States for registered foxes for breeding stock.

WOOLENS.

Philadelphia, June 17 — Forward buying knitters show less hesitation in taking orders for worsted yarns in this market. There is a good demand for novelty wool yarns for the women's wear trade and this has been increased by the firmness of the market.

HATS.

New York, June 17 — Orders for fall hats are showing a decided increase over last year, according to large manufacturers in this district. The tan shades seem to be the favorite although there is some demand for the lighter green such as spruce and sage.

VEGETABLES.

New Orleans, June 17— Shipments of vegetables from the producing sections of this state not affected by the flood and from the Mississippi section have been of record breaking proportions this year. Returns have been satisfactory in most cases and have brought good profits to many country communities.

SHOES.

Boston, June 17—The shoe manufacturing industry shows general improvement although this is a between season period.

FRUIT.

San Francisco, June 17—A banner yield is indicated from the vineyards of California. The inquiries for fine wine grapes is nation-wide. Growers show no disposition to sell at present prices but are holding for higher rates.

LUMBER.

Seattle, June 17 — Production of lumber mills for the last week has been about 9 per cent above normal. About 35 per cent of the new business booked by the mills was for future water delivery amounting to 32,710,847 board feet. Unfilled domestic cargo orders total 114,124,234 feet. Unfilled export orders total 77,439,013 feet, and unfilled rail orders amount to 6,955 carloads.

DRUGS.

Driscoll, Tenn., June 17 — S. E. Massengill and company, manufacturing pharmacists, are installing a Kansas City branch for the production of drugs and druggists' supplies.

SELLING CARRIES WHEAT DOWNWARD

Chicago, June 17.—Selling to anticipate much enlarged arrivals of wheat in the southwest, where the harvest is nearly general, has carried prices downward this week in the market.

Compared with a week ago, wheat Saturday morning was ⅞c to 4⅛c off, corn ⅛c down to ¼ higher, oats varied from 2c decline to a shade advance, and provisions at differences which ranged from a setback of ½ @15c to rise of 20 cents.

CONDITION WORRIES.

Falling of values in the wheat market went to a point where the question was seriously pressed as to whether returns were already below the cost of production. British dealers, however, were reported as cancelling purchases, and bears were contending that a bumper domestic crop of winter wheat appeared to be almost a certainty.

REPORTS RALLY.

At this juncture, news of excessive heat in the west and southwest, together with discovery of black rust northwest, tended to rally the market somewhat. Word of premature ripening of wheat in parts of Kansas, Oklahoma and Missouri became a special source of anxiety.

EXPORT BROADENS.

Export business which broadened out on the declines in the wheat market had something of a reassuring influence on holders as the week drew to a close. About 2,000,000 bushels were said to have been taken here for Europe during one period of 48 hours. Gossip was current that this purchase disposed of the largest single accumulation of wheat which was delivered here in May and which has since been acting as the weight on the Chicago market.

Corn was sustained in price by evidence of continued rural demand for feeding. On the other hand, liberal supplies made the oats market sag.

Provisions were governed mainly by changes in the price of hogs.

WOOL.

Boston, June 17—Trading was quiet in the wool market today. Traders were inclined to await final results of the London sales and the developments of the western markets. It has been found that the majority of the Utah clips have been sold somewhat under present figures and profittaking sales were in evidence. Pulled wool stocks are low and offerings are eagerly seized here.

DRY GOODS.

New York, June 17—A fair demand for standard print cloths was evident in the dry goods market today and prices generally held firm. Traders were wary of the raw cotton market as they have been all week and confined their business to covering operations. Prices for 64x60's and 68x72's were fully maintained however, with very little tendency to shade at second hands. Sheetings were steady with no great bulk of sales and interest was lacking in pajama checks, drills, twills and fine goods.

The raw silk market was slow although the strength of prices was not endangered.

BANK CLEARINGS.

New York, June 17—The actual condition of the clearing house banks and trust companies for the week shows that they hold $63,031,060 in excess of legal requirements. This is an increase of $42,422,460 from last week.

CATTLE, SHEEP DOWN—HOGS UP

See Decline of $2—Cattle in Poor Week—Hogs Strong.

Union Stock Yards, Chicago, June 17—Cattle and sheep markets closed quietly after a week of the hardest price cuts of the season, the decline in many cases of calves and spring lambs exceeding $2 a hundredweight. Hogs on the other hand rose to about last week's final levels, after selling lower early this week.

Receipts Saturday were estimated at 500 cattle, 6,000 hogs, 5,000 sheep and 400 calves.

LIGHT RUN.

Cattle: The week's run of 53,000 cattle was seven thousand lighter than last week, but the increased number of pasture fed animals led to a sharp decline against these animals and an appreciation of the dry fed stock.

The best grain fed steers close the week at the high point of the year, 15@25 higher than last week. Medium beeves show a 15 to 40c cut and grassy stock, both steers and butcher cattle are off 50@75c. Canners and cutters show slight decline and bulls are closing steady. Calves on a run of more than 20,000 this week, and sharp cuts in lambs prices, suffered declines ranging from $1.75@2.25.

BEST AT $10.75.

Hogs: added to today's fresh run was a stale supply of 9,401. Packers received 900 direct and the market had only a fairly active tone. Good to choice lights and butchers developed firmness at barely steady prices, best hogs clearing at $10.60@10.75, while packing grades and mixed moved at weak figures. The average weight of hogs this week is 243 against 240 a week ago and 238 a year ago.

LAMBS HARD HIT.

Sheep: Lambs met with a general cut of $2@2.25, best spring varieties clearing late this week at $12.50. Yearlings selling late this week at $10.00@11.00 are $1.25@1.50 under a week ago. Aged muttons lost 50 @75c, best handy weight killers, ewes bringing $6.25@6.50, while heavy offerings made $2.50@3.50. Packers received 4500 direct today leaving only two loads on the open market.

RUST REPORT BOOSTS PRICE

Wheat Close Firm After Slow Start—Corn Is Easy.

Chicago, June 17.—Wheat prices were unsettled at the start Saturday, initial quotations ranging from ⅜c down to a like advance, with July $1.10⅞ to 1.11 and September $1.11⅝ to 1.12. During the early dealings values firmed up on scattered buying, but the trade was light and prices held within narrow limits.

LACKS SPIRIT.

The market lacked enthusiasm. Values however showed greater firmness toward the finish on disappointing threshing returns from parts of the southwest with some mention of black rust damage in Oklahoma.

The close was firm with prices ranging from ½c to 1c higher July 1.11¾ to 1.11⅞ and September 1.12¼ to 1.12⅜.

BULLS STRENGTHEN.

Buying by local bulls strengthened the corn market shortly after the opening, but the bulge brought out commission house selling and reaction followed. Initial quotations were ⅛ higher to ⅛ lower, July 62.

The corn market later developed an easy undertone. Close ½c higher to 1c lower with July 61¾ to 61⅞c.

Oats started unchanged to ¼c higher with July 34¼, and then advanced fractionally.

Provisions were dull.

COTTON.

New York, June 17—The cotton market was under the influence of more favorable weather news today. The opening was steady at an advance of 2 to 10 points but as soon as overnight buying orders had been supplied prices eased off under realizing or liquidation for over the week-end, local and southern selling. It looked as though the tropical storm disturbance had subsided in Mexico after having caused only light rains in extreme south Texas, and weather conditions otherwise in the belt were considered very favorable. Good cotton growing weather has been reported for the greater part of the past week but the influence of the improvement in this respect has been offset to some extent by unanimous reports concerning the number and activity of boll weevil.

Traders found no special incentive in the news from the goods markets which pointed to a moderate or fair volume of business and continued cheerfulness over the outlook.

CORN ADVANCES TO 50 CENTS

Hogs Back to $9.75; Poultry and Dairy Products Unchanged.

Cash corn was somewhat firmer Saturday although futures in all grains were barely steady but local station buyers put the corn price up again to the coveted half dollar mark. Oats, however, remain unchanged and wheat was steady at about the close of Friday.

Hogs weakened somewhat and local packers put the price for tops back to $9.75.

In poultry and dairy products little change was noted although the difficulties of getting stuff to market are increased by the heat which causes much damage to eggs and death to many fowls in crowded coops.

ALBERT FISHER IS DEAD AT SULLIVAN

Was Retired Printer; Funeral Sunday.

Sullivan, June 17—Albert Fisher, aged 73 years passed away at the family home on North street Friday afternoon at three o'clock. He was born in Shelby County and lived there practically all his life, until he retired from active life and moved to Sullivan about twelve years ago.

Mr. Fisher was a farmer in early life, later working as a printer in Shelbyville. He was married to Miss Evelyn Morrison and besides his wife he leaves two children, Charles at home and Mrs. Homer Richardson of Mattoon. Mr. Fisher has been an invalid for some time, his death being expected.

Funeral services will be conducted at the Christian church Sunday afternoon by Rev. W. B. Hopper, with burial at Green Hill.

The children and teachers of the Methodist Sunday school held a picnic at Wyman park Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Lois Combs and Miss Lucille Dowers were Bethany visitors Friday.

Mrs. Wm. Rhodes entertained a number of ladies from the Bethany Presbyterian church Thursday, at dinner.

GAVE OFFICERS TROUBLE.

Luthur Baker is thought to be insane, an on complaint was taken into custody by Sheriff Charles Lansdeu and his deputy Charles Younger Friday afternoon. Baker was found at his mother's home and after quite a scuffle he was put in the sheriff's car, but they had no more than started until Baker jumped out and ran, the deputy at once ran and overtook him shortly and took him to the court house.

Here he jumped out the window through the screen but was over taken again at the lumber yard. This time he was placed in jail. His hearing was set for Saturday.

Miss Gladys Crowden of Bethany visited here Thursday.

Mrs. Mary Drugansky and son Theron will leave Sunday for Chicago to make their home, where the former has employment. Mrs. Drugansky sold her household goods Friday.

Mrs. P. G. Waald and niece, Jeanette Riggin, spent Thursday at Bourbon with Mr. and Mrs. William Olson.

The Odd Fellows held their regular district meeting at Gays Monday night. About ten from Sullivan lodge attended, there were 100 present from all over the county, as well as visitors from out side Moultrie

Officers were elected as follows: President— Don Kingery of Sullivan; vice president, Sherman Fread of Lovington; secretary, Chester Ledbetter of Bruce; treasurer, Matt Dedman of Sullivan.

The next district meeting will be held at Lovington the third Friday in July. The Rebekahs lodge of Gays served ice cream and cake.

DUN'S REPORT

New York, June 17— Duns Saturday said:

Existing business conditions contrast sharply with those of a year ago. Instead of the repressed demands of the earlier period, current buying in various lines reflects breadth and activity, and price advances, rather than declines now predominate. Less is heard at present than was the case last year of the quieting influence of the near approach of the summer because there is more work to be accomplished, and it is significant that the question as to whether business has improved, has changed to discussion of the extent and scope of the revival.

While the recovery actually has been in progress for many months, it had come so slowly and irregularly in different quarters as not to be widely noticed and some unsatisfactory phases had raised doubts as to the character of the forward movement. Weekly bank clearings $6,999,365,000.

CHRISTIAN COUNTY COUPLE MARRIED

Wedding Took Place in Decatur Thursday.

Taylorville, June 17.—Fritz Peters and Miss Ella Rogers of this city were married at noon Thursday in Decatur, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Munnis, the latter a sister of the bridegroom, witnessed the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. J. J. Midkiff. The wedding party motored to Decatur.

Mr. and Mrs. Peters departed on a honeymoon trip which will include Denver and Yellowstone park

They will make their home in this city on South Main street.

The bride is a daughter of Joseph Rogers of this city. The bridegroom is a son of Godfrey Peters and is employed as a conductor on the C. & I. M.

MURDERED MAN KNOWN HERE.

"Detroit Red" Clark, who was killed by Minnie Burch at Virden Wednesday, was in the county jail in Taylorville a year ago, charged with complicity in the Grove City bank robbery. "Coca" Alexander of Taylorville, arrested with Clark, broke jail and escaped and the case against Clark was dismised.

It is said that he confessed the Grove City robbery before he died implicating Alexander and three Springfield men.

He failed to give the names of the Springfield accomplices.

About thirty members of the Epworth League of the Kincaid Methodist church motored to Nokomis Wednesday night to hear a lecture given by Bishop Fred Fisher of Calcutta, India.

C. D. Simpson, who had both arms broken at Kincaid when he was hit by an automobile was taken home Friday from the St. Vincent hospital. He is doing nicely.

TOWER HILL MAN AFOUL OF THE LAW

Found Guilty of Misrepresenting Dogs.

Pana, June 17.—Arthur E. Humphreys of Tower Hill and formerly of Pana, was found guilty in the federal court at East St. Louis of the sale of dogs whose accomplishments and pedigrees had been eulogized through circulars distributed by Humphreys through the United States mail. He produced letters from persons all over the country who were pleased with their purchases, but he was indicted on five specific charges for the sales which were not satisfactory. The jury stated that they thought that Humphreys had deliberately misstated facts when he offered to sell for genuine hound dogs nothing but curs and canines.

He is charged with having used the mails to defraud and it was brought out in the hearing of the case that he had sold within the last three years $3,000 worth of dogs. The government charges that in some forty instances Humphreys failed to send any kind of a dog and that in many others the dogs he did send were far from being up to the glowing descriptions in his circulars. The postoffice department also made known several cases where Humphreys failed to make restitution to customers who failed to get dogs, and several cases where he did and the checks were not cashable.

DEFENDED HIMSELF.

Humphreys while on the stand stated that he was a legitimate breeder of dogs and that he always tried to give satisfaction. He presented a printed list of some 2,500 names of satisfied customers and stated that some times customers did not know what kind of dog they wanted nor what kind was best for their purposes, and that on such an occasion he exercised his judgment and sent them what he thought they needed.

Prices for the dogs from the kennels run from $20 to $150, and often the highest priced dogs were not satisfactory.

Assistant United States Attorneys A. B. Dennis and McCawley Baird conducted the case for the government. The sentence in the case had not been given out as yet.

The Presbyterian Children's Day, exercises will be held Sunday morning, instead of the regular service. The children and young people of the church will present at this time a very pleasing program.

The committee in charge are Miss Vera Cutler, chairman; Mrs. Marion Leighty, Mrs. Fairweather, Miss Catherine Cutler, Miss Doris Seiler, Mrs. E. J. Templeton, Miss Besse Hutchins and Mrs. Charles Deering.

ASKED TO AID.

Rev. A. B. Peck of the First Methodist church in this city, who rendered such capable work at the Baldwin-Wallace College Developments in Ohio last month has been asked to go to Pennsylvania to assist in the Dickinson College development there with headquarters in Philadelphia. However, tempting though the invitation is, Rev. Mr. Peck has announced that he fears his work in this city will not allow another extended stay from the city.

On Sunday morning Rev. Milton Wilson, pastor of the First Methodist Church in Assumption will occupy the pulpit of the Methodist church in Pana while Rev. Peck will go to Assumption to preach at the morning service.

DIES IN THEBES.

Word has been received in this city of the death in Thebes, Ill., of Rev. T. W. Tate, formerly pastor of the Baptist church in this city. Rev. Mr. Tate was aged about seventy years and was pastor of the church here about six years ago, going from Pana to Cairo and from there to Thebes. He is survived by his widow, three children, four brothers and two sisters.

The funeral services of the late Thomas "Scotty" Campbell will be held Sunday afternoon, at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. James Corman, 509 East Third street, at four o'clock, to the St. Partick's church with, interment at the Cavalry cemetery.

BREEDERS' & FARMERS' OPPORTUNITY

40 head of Big Type Spotted Poland China Sows and 4 Boars at Public Auction, Tuesday, June 20, 1922, at 1:30 p. m. Glad-Ver-Nell Farm, Taylorville, Illinois.

Sell your corn for $1.25 per bu. through good Spotted hogs and let your neighbors sell theirs for 50c on the wagon. There is a tremendous loss of spring pigs and a shortage of sows, making a good future market certain.

GEDDES DECRIES BRITISH DEBTS

Says Condition Will Strangle Industry.

London — Sir Eric Geddes formet First Lord of the Admiralty and later Minister of Transportation, whose latest activity has been at the head of a committee which sought a reduction of 100,000,000 pounds in the national expenditure, has complained to the Sheffield Chamber of Commerce of the way his "economy axe" has been blunted by those heads of governmental departments responsible for allotting the money to be expended by the various branches of the public service.

"You cannot get industry going right with the present load of debt hanging round its neck," he said. "It is strangling industry; the only thing that matters in this country is to get down taxation or we die."

PROPOSALS CUT.

After much study his committee had made proposals calculated to cut public expenditure by the sum mentioned above, but these proposed reductions were promptly reduced to 52,000,000 pounds. In the case of the navy, he said, the committee had proposed a reduction of 21,000,000 pounds, which involved no reduction in the number of fighting ships or in the number of men.

The naval authorities had only seen their way to save 4,000,000 pounds, although there was no likelihood of the navy being involved in war in the near future.

SIR ERIC RETIRES.

"Who shall blame Sir Eric that after his mortifying experience of 'practical' politics and the insincerity of the government's will to economy," says the Star, "he has decided to go back to a commercial career! Trade and manufacture may make mistakes but they are undoubtedly sincere in their search for both efficiency and economy."

FARM BUREAU HAS NEW COMMITTEE

Chicago, June 17 — The American Farm Bureau Federation Friday announced the appointment of a national canning crop committee of ways and means of improving the marketing of food products.

CHICAGO HIT BY RECORD HEAT WAVE

Chicago, June 17—One person died Friday and a dozen others were reported overcome as the result of a new heat wave which set a record for the summer here when the official reading at 4 o'clock was 95 degrees.

Woman's Story of Decatur Brought Indianapolis Men

Reception Plans for Mayor Shank and Party Complete—Is to Be Educational Trip.

When a Decatur woman recently went to Indianapolis to visit her brother, W. T. Bailey, assistant corporation counsel of that city, she did not think that she was starting something which would develope into such a trip as the Indianapolis officials and representatives of civic bodies of that city will take when they come to Decatur Sunday on that special train to inspect Decatur's water impounding project.

But this woman, full of Decatur's enterprise and of enthusiasm for her own city told this brother of hers about the project which was reaching a successful conclusion here. Later Mr. Bailey told about it to Mayor Lewis Shank who remarked that if that is what it is Indianapolis should see it in connection with the proposal which is being considered there for the creation of a recreational lake adjoining Riverside park there.

JORDAN ON COMMITTEE.

Frank C. Jordan, secretary of the Indianapolis Water Co., one of the enthusiastic supporters of the proposed new lake for Indianapolis noticed in the Indianapolis papers one day that he had been made a committee to look into the Decatur project. From this start, this story of Decatur's lake and dam told by a Deactur woman to her brother, grew the plan to make the trip to Decatur to se what has actually been done and how it was done.

In Indianapolis the plan is to impound a lake by damming the White river, this lake to be one mile wide by four miles long and to adjoin the Riverside park of 900 acres which is the great park of that city

DEVELOPE PARK.

"When Mayor Taggart bought that Riverside park for Indianapolis he was accused of all sorts of crooked business. In securing the land he had paid the hitherto unheard of price of as much as $100 an acre. Now that land could not be bought for thirty times that amount. It is expected that this lake, if it is formed, will make of this great park one of the most attractive places in the middle west," said Mr. Jordan Saturday.

Mr. Jordan, who has been about Decatur and the region of the lake the last two days emphasizes the value of a road about the lake and says that Decatur should start at once to secure it—to secure all the land that it can about it.

"Decatur hasn't the least idea what it is getting nor what this will mean to the city within a very few years."

EDUCATIONAL TRIP.

"This trip of ours is more educational than anything else" continued Mr. Jordan. "We want to show some of our people that this can really be done. The cost to us for the lake we propose to make is put at a million and a half and it can be done through the park district taxing and bonding power. All that we want to do is to show the Indianapolis people that it is worth while and possible"

PLANS COMPLETE FOR RECEPTION

Plans for the reception of the Indianapolis visitors have been completed under the general supervision of W. Harold Wiley, acting for the Association of Commerce, and Saturday the formal printed programs were printed.

These show that the train is scheduled to reach the Staley club house or Nelson Park at 11:30 when everybody will get off the train to look over the lake basin from the vantage spot of the railroad grade and bridge.

At 11:40 the crowd will walk over to the grove in Nelson park where a substantial lunch will be served for the visitors under the direction of the Decatur association, at 12 o'clock.

At 12:30 the very short program will be held.

ADDRESS OF WELCOME.

An address of welcome by J. S. McClelland, president of the Association of Commerce, a short religious service led by the Rev. Chesteen Smith, a short talk by Mayor C M. Porchers, of Decatur, and a reply by Lewis Shank, mayor of Indianapolis.

At 1:45 the train will be again boarded and it will then be taken boarded and it will then be taken on the C. I. & W. to the union station, switched to the Illinois Central and then to the water works where the crowd will debark to inspect the dam.

PARADE TO CITY.

After a short inspection of the dam and the surroundings it is expected that the visitors will form in line at 2:30 to parade to the business section where the visitors will doubtless spend the short time left in inspecting the city.

Plans have been made to have cars for the transportation of the visiting women who come with the delegation.

At 5 o'clock the special will leave the union station for Indianapolis, the visitors being furnished with a box lunch at the train to serve as supper until they reach home.

COMMITTEE TO HAMMOND.

The visitors will be met at Hammond by representatives of the Decatur Association of Commerce and others.

W. Harold Wiley, chairman of the committee in charge of the arrangements; J. E. Tackaberry, chairman of the publicity committee and probably Harold Pogue, secretary of the association. M. C. Nelson, president of the Decatur Motor club, will drive one of the cars which will go to Hammond.

MASONS TO MEET INDIANAPOLIS BAND

Committee to Board Train At Hammond.

A committee of Masons will meet the Indianapolis delegation coming to Decatur Sunday, at Hammond, to welcome the Square and Compass band that is with the party. The band is composed of Master Masons and they have donated their services for the party that is coming to see the Decatur water impounding project.

The local Masons in charge of the reception are urging as many Masons as possible to be at Nelson park between 11 and 11:30 to welcome the band. Following the luncheon that is to be served the Indianapolis delegation if the band is not taken to the dam, local Masons with cars will take the band over the city and perhaps an informal reception may be held at Eldorado Temple.

JAKE HILL ASKS FOR MORE HELP

Makes Demand in Washington for Twelve Positions.

A fight in the interests of improving the Decatur postal service has been started by Postmaster Jake Hill with the postal department at Washington. Decatur patrons, especially business houses, it is pointed out, would do well to get behind the Decatur postmaster in the fight for help that has been badly needed here for years

DECATUR SLIGHTED.

Decatur has been slighted. This is apparent from a survey of postoffice forces in other cities. Danville for instance, with postal receipts of less than half of those of Decatur, has as many clerks as the Decatur office and only two less carriers York, Pa., with postal receipts less than Decatur has many more clerks and carriers. Just such figures apply to many other cities. Decatur's frequent appeals for more help have been answered with delays or by allowing just one additional clerk or carrier now and then.

WANTS 12 MEN.

Postmaster Hill is wanting about five more clerks and about seven more carriers. He has just returned from Washington, where they tried at first to offer him one more clerk. He would not accept this and then he was offered three. Jake however, stuck to the original demand and declared he would take chances with a postal inspector coming here, investigating the situation and grant more additional help than has been offered.

JUST SLIGHTLY COOLER TODAY

Temperature Up at 86 at Noon.

Saturday was a cool day comparatively. When the sun came up in a clear sky Saturday morning, many of the weather prophets prophisied that it would be the hotest day that we have had thus far. They were wrong, however.

A cool breeze blew over the city most of the day and abated the intense heat. The temperature at noon Saturday was only 86 while on Friday the mercury climbed up to 98 during the afternoon.

The day was sufficiently warm for most people however. In the business district the heat of the pavements was especially felt. Persons who could get to the country or go swimming hastened to do so. Those whose business kept them in town made frequent visits to the water fountains and drink parlors. The bears at Fairview park plunged into their pool frequently.

A few clouds gathered above the city about 11 o'clock in the morning and everyone but the baseball fans ferverently wished for a rain to cool things off.

Excursions Sunday.

Wabash and Illinois Central excursions will be run from Decatur to Chicago and return Sunday at $3 the round trip, which is the cheapest Chicago excursion Decatur has had for years. On the Wabash, these tickets will be good on trains leaving here at 1:10 and 2:55 o'clock Sunday morning and returning, will be good on all trains up to and including the train leaving Chicago for Decatur at 11:45 p. m. Sunday.

On the Illinois Central, tickets will be good on the trains leaving Decatur at 11:15 Saturday night and 6:13 Sunday morning and returning, will be good on all trains leaving Chicago up to 10:30 Sunday night.

To Preach Sunday.

Rev. J. O. Todd of the First United Brethren church is attending the graduation exercises at the Otterbein College in Westfield, O., and in his absence Rev. W. L. Perkins will preach at both Sunday services.

Cleared $75.

The Catholic Daughters of America cleared $75 at the bakery sale held Friday at the Decatur Railway and Light office.

MACHINISTS VOTE TO GO ON STRIKE

Out of 250 Only Three in Negative.

APPROVE BENEFIT

Call Lee to Come Here for Conference.

Wabash machinists transacted an unusual number of important pieces of business at the meeting Friday night. Probably the most important was the almost unanimous vote to strike against the proposed wage cut ordered by the labor board for July 1. About 350 machinists come under the jurisdiction of the Decatur lodge, practically all of them being in Decatur.

About 250 attended the meeting Friday night and it was said there was only three votes recorded against the strike. The rest of the members not present Friday night, were being canvassed Saturday morning and it was not believed that there would be more than five or six votes in the whole lodge against the strike.

APPROVE SICK BENEFIT.

Word was received from the grand lodge that the Decatur local's sick benefit fund had been approved and it will therefore be put into effect right away. This is strictly a local thing put on by the Decatur lodge and provides for the payment of $1 a day sick benefit without any increase in rates or dues.

It was voted to increase the executive board from five to seven members and as this provides that the vice-president and the secretary-treasurer shall be members of this board, it puts A. H. Diehl and A. H. Benedict into the new offices.

CALL FOR LEE.

The machinists have also sent for General Chairman Frank Lee to come here Monday for the purpose of taking up with Wabash mechanical department officials, the matter of restoring time and one-half pay for Sunday morning at the roundhouse. The men claim that under interpretation of the rules by the labor board that they will be entitled to claim this extra Sunday pay.

Complete Vote.

The Wabash crafts have just about completed their strike vote in Decatur and it has been almost unanimous in favor of the strike. Sheet metal workers say that of their membership of 110, that all members voted for a strike while the boiler-makers report that of their 225 members, the vote was practically 100 per cent for strike.

Railroad Notes.

A special religious service for all railroad men of Decatur has been arranged for 7:30 o'clock Sunday evening in the First Methodist church with Rev. Chesteen Smith officiating.

Wabash highball No. 96 suffered a delay Friday night of two or three hours, due to its engine throwing a tire at Taylorville and doing considerable damage. The engine was the 2450, just recently out of the shops. It was necessary for the engine on second No. 96 to bring both trains in from Taylorville.

The tieup of the Wabash south end caused by the wreck at the St. Louis bridge, made a flurry of business for the freight crews south and east after the first train passed over at 1 o'clock Friday afternoon. At one time there were three lights south, a drag and a C. I. and W. between Mercer street and the bridge and eight lights south were sent out in all. Crews were getting out right on their rest, Because of this business and the large number laying off quite a number of firemen were running Saturday. Among those being used on the extra engineer board were D. Adams, Young, H. Jones and Brosend.

Wabash passenger engineer Ewing is laying off for several days and Engineer P. T. Judy has marked off sick. Engineer Ben Baldwin has bid in the south pool turn that was vacant, this taking him off the extra board.

H. B. Litts, Wabash north end passenger fireman, has been assigned to the extra engineers board and this throws all firemen jobs on the north end open for bids up to June 21. Bids will be received to the same date for engineers on the seventh district pool turn vacated by Prindle.

Wabash brakeman Phillips has been assigned to the head end job on the caboose 2108 on the north end.

Inspect Two Bridges.

A special committee of the county board consisting of Supervisors Veech, Cline and Cooper Saturday morning in company with County Superintendent Hicks visited two bridges in Blue Mound township that are asking for county aid. One is a bridge one half mile south and one half mile east of Blackland. A new bridge of twenty foot span and twenty foot roadway is required here. It will be of reinforced concrete.

The second bridge is a repair job. It is a 48 foot steel truss bridge two and a half miles south of Boody. A new concrete abutment is required and a thirty foot retaining wall, also a new floor.

BORN.

To Mr. and Mrs. Fred Edie, 1460 West Decatur street, June 15, an eight and a half pound son.

To Mr. and Mrs. Guy Hawkins, 308 West Wood street, June 16, a son in the Decatur and Macon County hospital. He has been named Guy Curtis.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Burg, 502 East Division street, Friday, June 16, a son, Eddie Burg, Jr.

ELECTED TO NATIONAL OFFICE

GEORGE R. FLINT.

George R. Flint, vice president and manager of Flint, Eaton and Company, was elected vice president of the American Pharmaceutical association at its convention at Bedford Springs, Penn., June 12-16. This is considered a high honor as it usually leads to the presidency although not always.

Mr. Flint will return to Decatur Sunday afternoon.

FLAUGHER READY TO START ON ROAD

Notifies Wabash Equipment Is Coming.

Contractor R. G. Flaugher, who has the subcontract from the Macon county board of supervisors for construction of the state hard road east from Decatur on William street, Route 10, is getting ready to start work immediately.

He notifed the Wabash that he would start receiving his equipment here this week and has made arrangements with the railroad company for two unloading points. Some of his gravel, cement and other material will be unloaded on the sidetracks at Sangamon station and the rest will be unloaded on the new Wabash spur track east of Moser road just east of Decatur. This is a spur track built out on the ground acquired by the Wabash about a year or so ago for enlarging the Decatur yards.

TO SHIP WOOL TO CHICAGO IN JULY

Some Farmers Yet to Deliver Clip to Farm Bureau.

The Macon County Farm Bureau will make a shipment of wool to Chicago sometime in July. Considerable wool has been brought in to the bureau in the last few weeks and more is expected soon as the rest of the sheep growers are clipping their sheep.

The sheep raisers of the county by pooling their wool through the Farm Bureau are able to realize better prices than by selling it individually. It also entails less cost and trouble on their part. The wool is expected to bring from 35c to 40c a pound this year.

12 CARS ROAD OIL FOR MACON COUNTY

To Start Arriving Middle of Next Week.

START GOING NORTH

State to Inspect All Oil At Refinery.

The Macon county state aid road committee Saturday ordered out twelve cars of road oil and its application to the state aid roads will begin just as soon as the first cars arrive. It is expected that two cars will be delivered each day. The oil will come from Lawrenceville, Ill., and the delivery probably will begin about the middle of the week. Ben Harrison has the contract for putting the oil on the roads.

BLOOMINGTON ROAD.

The roads first to be oiled are the Bloomington road, the road leading west from Maroa, The Forsyth-Warrensburg road and the road from Emory to Argenta. The road running east from Maroa and that east from Forsyth are not yet in condition to be oiled.

After the roads in the north end of the county have been oiled several roads about Mt. Zion will be treated.

TO BE INSPECTED.

The oil used in Macon county this year will be inspected by the state highway department at the refinery before it is shipped. The state has also agreed to test all oil used by township highway commissioners if the state highway authorities are notified that such tests are desired. This is the first time that this service has been rendered.

SOY BEAN SEED SCARCE ARTICLE

Farmers Want Them to Plant in Ruined Corn.

Soy been seed is very scarce and one farmer stated in a Decatur grain office Saturday that he would give five dollars a bushel if he could get a supply. The beans are now being planted in corn which the chinch bugs are threatening to take and which the farmers have decided will be difficult to save.

The beans will not be harvested until early fall, some time in September, when the wheat drill can follow the harvesting of the beans.

PLAN TO VISIT CAMP SANGAMO

Number from Decatur to Go Over Sunday.

A number of Decatur people whose sons are among the Boy Scouts at Camp Sangamo, near Springfield, are planning to drive to the camp on Sunday. Visiting days are on Sundays and Thursdays.

The camp is of interest to all visitors, whether or not they have sons in attendance, because it is the largest and best managed camp of its kind in the middle west. L. F. Kinister is Camp Director.

Building 18 Houses.

J. L. Burtschi has eighteen houses, five and six room modern residences, in process of construction on West Marletta and North Dunham street. West Marletta street along this newly developed tract is to have a new pavement of asphalt. If Mr. Burtschi finds a sufficient demand for homes he will build more on the land which he owns there.

Approve 6.33 Miles of Roads

According to a dispatch from Waukegan, Gov. Small has approved 6.33 more miles of hard road in Macon county. This is believed to be the remained of Route 2 north to the county line. Five miles were approved some time ago.

NEW SOUTH ROAD IN MUELLER LAND

Relocated to Miss Some Buildings.

There is not a great deal of difference between the route for the road south of the river as called for by the resolution presented to the board of supervisors and referred to the state-aid road committee with power to act, and the one called for in the resolution adopted by the board last November.

Both call for the road to be built on top of the hill. The first one would give a clear view of the lake for the entire distance between the two bridges, while the one last mentioned will give a view of the lake for about half the distance.

CHANGE ROUTE.

Since the resolution was adopted last November it was discovered that the road called for in that resolution would pass right through the important buildings on the Mueller land, necessitating the removal of practically all of them. For that reason the route over part of the distance was changed so that the road as now planned will swing to the south of the buildings and will be far enough away as not to interfere with the buildings. However, as planned now the road will cut right through the Mueller orchard.

COST $16,000 TO $20,000.

The cost of this road, which is to be borne by the Water Supply company, is estimated at between $16,000 and $20,000.

This road, coming out at the Imboden farm on the County Bridge road, will land the farmers from southeast of the city no nearer to Decatur than they were when they left the Maffit Bridge road.

P. T. Hicks, county superintendent of roads, told one of the supervisors that to build a lake road so that it would stay there, with retaining walls, would cost $175,000. Everyone would like to see the road there but no one wanted to take the contract at $65,000, the amount of money pledged for it.

Mr. Hicks explained that a considerable length of retaining wall would have to be built on piling before the road could be constructed. This he estimated would cost at least $75,000 and then the road would cost $65,000 on top of that.

SCRAPS OF NEWS

OPEN LONGER HOURS.

The Western Union office in Decatur will be open on Sunday in Decatur hereafter from 8 a. m. to 10 p. m., continuously. Heretofore the hours have been 9 to 12, 3 to 6 and 7 to 9.

AT ST. JOHN'S EPISCOPAL.

Rev. William Baker, rector of St. Matthews church of Bloomington will hold services at St. John's Episcopal church Sunday morning at 7:30 and 10:45 a. m. These probably will be the last services at the church until fall. Mr. Baker has been at St. John's frequently in the past.

AT FIRST PRESBYTERIAN.

Dr. Gerrit Verkuyl, who was in attendance at the Presbyterian conference and was on the program, will preach Sunday at the First Presbyterian church both morning and evening. Dr. Verkuyl is of the board of publication and Sunday school work in Philadelphia. The morning subject will be "Christ, the Power of God." The evening subject will be "The Program of Jesus."

SHRINERS BUSY.

A card from Roy B. Zeigler says that the Shrine is being royally entertained in San Francisco, and that there are 150,000 Shriners in the city.They were taken through Chinatown Tuesday night.

DRIVE FROM MONTANA.

Thomas Bryant and family of Bear Creek, Mont., has arrived here for a month's visit with his brother and family, S. H. Bryant, 2038 North Wilbur street. The trip to Decatur covered 1800 miles and three weeks were taken up in making the trip. Outside of encountering a number of bad storms and going into the ditch once or twice, they had no serious trouble.

TO ORGANIZE MOTOR CLUB.

June 26 has been set as the date for the organization of the Dewitt county Motor Club. The Chamber of Commerce will assist in the organization and much enthusiasm has been manifested in the plan of organization says F. W. Bentley, division secretary of the Illinois State Automobile Association.

MOTOR CLUB SENDS FIVE TO CHICAGO

Will Consider Action After They Arrive.

A meeting of the board of directors of the Decatur Motor Club was held Friday afternoon to consider the course of the Decatur club in the matter of the split of the A. A. A. and the organization of a new national association. The men present at this meeting frankly admitted themselves pretty much at sea as to the real cause of the division.

It was decided that Decatur would go to Chicago with a strong delegation and an open mind. They will be free to act as they see fit when they get into the meeting. The delegation will consist of M. C. Nelson, A. M. Kenney, Roy Wilson, Harry Spuyd and T. W. Boruff. They will leave for Chicago Sunday and will be present at the opening of the meeting for the organization of the new association.

CONSIDER A. A. A.

One thing that puzzles the directors of the Decatur club is their status in relation to the A. A. A. in case they go into the new organization. The membership of the members of the Decatur Motor club is paid up in the A. A. A. for a year. They are entitled to all of the advantages and benefits of that membership. The new radiator emblems which the Decatur club has bought and paid for are A. A. A. emblems. If the Decatur club joins the secessionists will thus disqualify the members for using these emblems? Will it be necessary to pay another assessment for the new association? These and other questions were asked at the meeting.

MOTORCYCLISTS TO GO TO SMITH'S MILL

Is in Observation of National Gypsy Tour.

Members of the Decatur Motorcycle club will observe the national motorcycle gypsy tour date Sunday by a trip to Smith's Mill, on the Sangamon west of Decatur.

This national gypsy tour for motorcyclists has been set by the national organization for June 17, 18 and 19, one, two or three days, and the Decatur club decided to make it a one day trip, Sunday.

The motorcyclists will meet at the corner of North Water and East Eldorado street Sunday morning at 6:45 and will leave there at 7 o'clock.

In the evening the return trip from Smith's Mill will be started at 5 o'clock. Boating, fishing, swimming and hill climbing will be the sports of the day. Members should take their own lunches.

J. H. Miles has something like 500 baby tarantulas to dispose of at a price much less than the current price of baby chicks. The infant tarants are less than one day old at this writing but are healthy and doing well. They are all one family and so far as can be determined by the naked eye there are no runts or weaklings among them. They are temporarily on exhibition in The Review window.

The mother tarantula rode the blind baggage of a bunch of bananas into Decatur and brought her house or rather her cocoon along with her. Mr. Miles, who has a grocery at 1770 North Edward, found the spider and her cocoon a week ago and enclosed both in a glass fruit jar with perforated top. It is no uncommon thing for bananas from Central Ammerica to contain tarantulas but it is seldom that so interesting a specimen is found.

EATS LIVE FLIES.

Mr. Miles has spent a most delightful week with this one. He has been feeding her flies and she insists upon having them alive. She pays absolutely no attention to dead flies. She captures them in mid air. It takes a quick eye and perfect aim to do this. If you don't believe it try swatting a fly on the wing. But when Mistress Tarantula shoots out one of her forelegs for a distance of two inches she always brings home the bacon.

What she does with it after she captures it is quite interesting. She pulls the fly under the fore part of her body, another pair of legs or mandibles or specially designed limbs get busy opening up the still wriggling Musca Domestica and presently her wings, shell and other dry and tasteless parts fall to the bottom of the jar.

SPINS WEB.

The birth of the baby tarantulas was no less interesting although Mr. Miles did not see the actual hatching process. For several days Mrs. Tarantula has set upon the cocoon or perhaps more properly the great, irregular shaped compound egg as if she knew that something was about to come off.

Friday she began spinning a web which filled the top of the jar. She worked tremendously hard at this and kept at it continuously in spite of the heat of the day. Saturday morning the webb was full of tarantulettes. Mr. Miles is through with them. He has seen all that he cares to see. Any scientist or other lover of insectivora may have them for the asking.

WABASH REPORTS ILLINOIS DRY

Says Oats Backward and Red Rust in Wheat.

The crop report issued by the Wabash as of June 10 for the states through which this road runs, shows that Illinois has been the warmest and driest of all the states, the others having enjoyed more rain up until that date. As to wheat, this crop in Illinois is reported heading out generally and filling in southern counties. There is an unusual amount of red rust in the southern and some lodging in the northern area.

The oats growth is backward and is much below normal acreage. Corn is up and shows fine uniform stands. The soil is very dry and needs rain badly. The fruit prospect is unusually good. The hay crop outlook all over the state is the best in years and pasture feed is abundant.

SHIP SUBSIDY TO TRAIL TARIFF BILL

Claim Members Need Study of Measure.

Washington, June 17.—The administration ship subsidy bill is not likely to be taken up by the house until the house is ready to send the tariff bill before the senate, to conference Chairman Campbell of the rules committee informed Republican leaders today, after a talk with President Harding.

Mr. Campbell stated he had informed the president of objections in some Republican quarters to consideration of the bill at this time and while the president was insistent on action prior to adjournment he was impressed with the desire that time be given members of the senate and the house and the country to understand what the bill proposed.

FARMERS PAY FOR PITTSBURGH "PLUS"

Chicago, June 17.—The Pittsburgh plus method of selling steel has added between $250,000,000 and $30,000,000 annually to the steel bill of farmers in eleven central western states, J. R. Howard, president of American Farm Bureau Federation testified today at the final Chicago hearing of the federal trade commission's inquiry.

HOW GOOD A LOSER ARE YOU?

You may not believe in crying over spilt milk. Or complaining about your hard luck. Or any of those things.

But a really good loser goes one step further. He sees what a little ad in The Review's Lost and Found column can do for him.

And he generally recovers what he's lost!

Sounds hard? The only trick to it is deciding to use The Review ad. The rest is as simple as one, two, three!

Honest finders watch this paper's Lost and Found column. The little ads telling what articles have been lost and who have lost them are the connecting links that lead to the recovering of many missing valuables.

Remember this, next time you lose anything—call Main 551 and ask for an ad taker!
